THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXXVIII—No. 335 ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 16, 1906—SIXTEEN PAGES. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

FAITH BROKEN BY ROOSEVELT, SAYS TILLMAN

South Carlina Senator Makes Another Statement Regarding the Rate Bill.

ROOSEVELT HONOR CODE DOES NOT SUIT TILLMAN

South Carolina Senator Also Says Moody Might Know More About the Code of Honor—Allison Reads Statement by the President.

Washington, May 15.—While the debate on the personnel of the interstate commerce commission was in progress in the senate today, Senator Tillman took the floor to make a statement on behalf of ex-Senator Chandler, which had been momentarily expected since Senator Lodge's conveyance last Saturday to the senate of the president's emphatic denial of some statements attributed to Mr. Chandler by the South Carolina senator.

Mr. Tillman read the portion of Mr. Chandler's memoranda of his conferences with the president, which has heretofore been given to the public, prefacing it with a brief statement of his own, saying that on Saturday the senate had been startled and mortified to hear the utterances of an ex-senator denounced on behalf of the president as a "deliberate and unqualified falsehood." As he had been responsible for introducing the subject which had caused the attack on Mr. Chandler, he felt under obligations to place him right on the record. To that end he read the ex-senator's statement.

Senator Tillman on Roosevelt.

The reading of that statement was followed by the following from Mr. Tillman:

"There are only two points in the president's letter which I deem worthy of notice. His attempted explanation is ingenious but not ingenuous. He calls in question the integrity of purpose and utterance of Mr. Chandler by declaring:

"'He was asked to see ex-Senator Chandler as representing Mr. Tillman, who was in charge of the bill. He stated to me the views of Mr. Tillman with seeming authority.'

"Mr. Chandler has declared most positively in a written statement that the president sent for him for the purpose of getting into communication with Senator Bailey and myself and he has produced the letter of Mr. Loeb.

"I now declare most emphatically that to no human being have I ever given authority or even expressed a wish to have any conference with Theodore Roosevelt in regard to the bill now under consideration. On the contrary, I have expressed the opinion in more than one public interview that he had nothing to do with it, and that it was the business of the senate, and while I did, at his request, enter into negotiations with the attorney general, it is well known to every senator on this floor what my attitude and feelings have been, and it is most remarkable when the president sent for a democrat to confer with him about this measure that he undertake to assert under the circumstances that I sent a man to him to begin negotiations. The statement is absurd and it is unfair.

Roosevelt and Code of Honor.

"The other point to which I shall refer is the cavalier way in which Mr. Moody discusses the idea of the president not being bound.

"While contradicting in no instance, however slight, my statement of what occurred, the attorney general seems to think that the code of honor among gentlemen is not binding upon the executive and his cabinet.

"The president asked him to see Mr. Bailey and myself. We met by appointment made by Senator Chandler and talked over the vital question. He wrote and sent to Mr. Bailey his understanding of our views and when we met subsequently we reached an absolute agreement, both as to the form and the substance of a proposed amendment to which he said the president would assert and help get votes for.

"Of course he was not bound not to change, but he was bound under such circumstances to give notice and that was not done. Even the attorney general himself was not notified. The charge I made and still make is that the president is guilty of bad faith and that the rate bill which will be enacted into law, a much better and stronger measure than we had hoped to get, has been emasculated of one of the most valuable and essential amendments by the president's action.

"I am ready to leave the whole question to the thoughtful and honorable men of the country."

Tillman Talking Now.

Soon after beginning his statement, Senator Tillman injected the words "this is Tillman talking now," which caused a titter in the senate and considerable laughter in the galleries. When Mr. Tillman had concluded Senator Allison asked to have read the president's letter to him. He only said that his object was to have the letter made as permanent of record as Mr. Tillman's statement. Attorney General Moody's statement to the president was also read.

When the words "I saw the newspaper men in mass" were read there was a loud guffaw in the senate and in the galleries, and the vice-president rapped sharply with his gavel to restore order.

Mr. Nelson interposed with a motion to lay the pending amendment to the rate bill on the table, which closed the incident.

INTEREST GREAT OVER SELECTION OF NEW BISHOPS

The Methodist General Conference Decides to Elect Three New Officials.

CHOICE OF NEW BISHOPS WILL OCCUR THURSDAY

Bishop Wilson, of Baltimore, Has Been Chosen to Represent the Bishops on the Committee of Five to Revise Articles of Faith.

Birmingham, Ala., May 15.—Tonight the corridor of the leading hotel in this city looks as though a political convention was in progress. Uppermost in the mind of every degelate to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, was the personnel of the possibilities for bishop.

The possibilities seem to have dwindled down to seven, as follows:

Dr. W. F. McMurry, pastor Centenary church, at St. Louis.

Rev. Collins Denney, instructor in philosophy, Vanderbilt university.

Dr. James W. Atkins, Sunday school editor of The M. E. Church, South.

Dr. J. C. Kilgore, president Trinity college, Durham, N. C.

Dr. W. D. Murrah, president Millsap's college, Jackson, Miss.

Dr. Seth Ward Texas.

Dr. John J. Tigert, book editor of The Church.

The election will be conducted by secret ballot. Three men will be voted for by each delegate on the first ballot, and the balloting will continue until three men have received a majority of the votes of the votes cast.

Last night each of the men mentioned above for the place had avowed champions at work for them, and the contest promises to have more than usual interest.

Action of Conference.

The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, today decided to elect three new bishops, and set Thursday morning at 10 o'clock as the time for the selection of these high dignitaries of the church and such other officers as are usually chosen by the general conference. There was considerable discussion as to the number of bishops to be chosen. The matter came up when report No. 3 of the committee on episcopacy was taken from the calendar. Dr. C. H. Briggs, of Missouri, moved that the word three be changed to read two bishops.

George N. Napier, of Georgia, offered an amendment that provision be made for four bishops; John R. Pfeffer, of Mem-

DR. CRAPSEY IS DECLARED TO BE HERETIC

Court Finds Against the Episcopal Rector on All Grounds.

HE WILL BE SUSPENDED IF HE DOES NOT RECANT

Court Says He Must Conform His Belief and Teaching to the Apostles' Creed and to the Nicene Creed—Crapsey Has Thirty Days of Grace.

Rochester, N. Y., May 15.—The verdict in the heresy trial of Rev. Dr. Algernon S. Crapsey to-day was delivered to the accused minister.

Four of the jurors state that in their opinion sentence should be passed as follows:

"That the respondent should be suspended from exercising the functions of the church until such time as he shall satisfy the ecclesiastical court that his belief and teaching conform to the apostles' creed and the Nicene creed as this church hath received the same. However, we express the earnest hope that the respondent may see his way clearly during the thirty days that, under the canons of the church, must intervene before sentence can be pronounced to the full satisfaction of the ecclesiastical authorities of such conformity on his part.

"W. C. ROBERTS,
"C. H. BOYNTON.
"G. S. BURROUGHS.
"JOHN MILLS GILBERT."

The charges against Dr. Crapsey grew out of a series of sermons delivered by him while he was rector of St. Andrew's church at Rochester, and which he subsequently published in book form under the title "Religion and Politics." In brief, the charges declare that Dr. Crapsey, in these writings, denies the doctrine of the divinity of Christ, His virgin birth, His resurrection and the doctrine of the trinity, as contained in the Apostles' and Nicene creed and the Book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States of America.

What the Court Says.

The court says:

"We make and find the following conclusions with respect to the said matters and things written and published by said respondent, and we here set forth for convenient reference that portion of the presentment referred to, and herein denominated 'Doctrines denied' being a part of specification one, charge one. 'It being intended by said language, words and terms to express the presbytery's disbelief in and to impugn and to deny each of the following doctrines,' is contained and enunciated in the Apostle's creed, the Nicene creed and as set forth, indicated and declared in the book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States of America.

"1. The doctrine that our Lord Jesus Christ is God, the Savior of the world.

"2. The doctrine that our Lord Jesus Christ was conceived by the Holy Ghost.

"3. The doctrine of the virgin birth of our Lord Jesus Christ.

"4. The doctrine of the resurrection of our blessed Lord and Savior.

"5. The doctrine of the blessed trinity.

Guilty of the Charges.

"We find the respondent guilty of the charges set forth in the presentment to the extent now here stated:

"1. As to the said 'doctrine denied,' presentment charge 1, specification 1, that by his writings contained in said book 'Religion and Politics,' the respondent impugns, if he does not express his disbelief in the denial of, doctrines set forth in paragraphs Nos. 1 and 5.

"2. That in the said writings contained in the book, "Religion and Politics," and quoted in the presentment, said respondent expresses his disbelief in and impugns and denies the doctrines referred to and set forth in paragraphs numbered 2, 3 and 4 of the matters herein referred to as 'doctrines denied.'

"And as to specification 2, charge 1, that by the language contained in a certain sermon delivered by the said accused on or about December 31, 1905,

MADLY INFATUATED WITH LITTLE GIRL, JAMES H. CLARK DIES BY HIS OWN HAND AFTER SLAYING ONE AND WOUNDING FOUR

Parts of Three Counties Terrorized by Love-Crazed, Whisky-Maddened Telegraph Operator.

ATTACKED BROTHER-IN-LAW OF GIRL THAT HE LOVED AND SET HOUSE AFIRE

Began His Career of Carnage on Monday Night and Fired on Every Person He Met Until All His Ammunition, Save Two Cartridges, Was Gone.

CORONER'S INQUEST HELD OVER BODY OF JIM CLARK

The verdict of the coroner's jury in the inquest held last evening over the body of James H. Clark was that "the deceased came to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by parties to the jury unknown."

Clark's body was sent to Baldwin, a few miles from Chamblee, last night, where it will be buried by relatives today.

Funeral of William J. Cheek.

The funeral of William J. Cheek, the innocent victim of Clark's wild frenzy, will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from New Hope church, near Dunwoody, and the services will be conducted by the Masons, the deceased having been a member of that fraternity.

Mr. Cheek leaves a wife and three children. He was always known to have been a man of a quiet and kind disposition. He met his death in performing an act which was meant as a kindness to his slayer and to his neighbors.

By Gordon Noel Hurtel.

Foiled in his lovemaking with a 14-year-old girl, with his brain weakened by recent illness and with his imagination fired by whisky, James H. Clark, night operator at Chamblee, shot and killed one man and wounded five other persons Monday night and early yesterday morning.

His victims were:

WILLIAM J. CHEEK, merchant at Dunwoody, 5 miles from Chamblee, shot through the heart and killed.

J. W. PURCELL, brother in law of the girl Clark loved, shot in the hip and seriously wounded.

E. S. PURCELL, father of J. W. Purcell, shot in the hand.

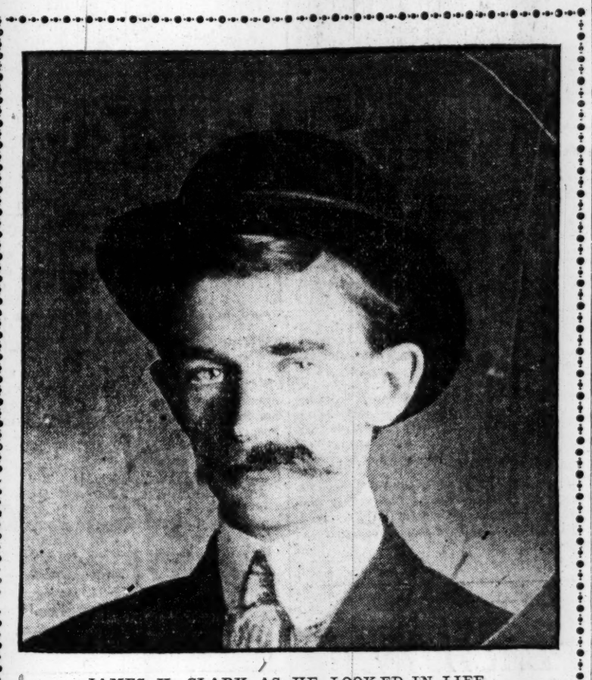

FRANK BOLTON, shot in the side with birdshot and slightly injured.

WILL COKER, of Dunwoody, hit over the head with a shotgun and painfully hurt.

W. S. MASK, day operator at Chamblee, shot in the arm and slightly injured.

From the time Cark made his assault on the home of E. S. Purcell, Monday night until he was hunted down yesterday and forced to kill himself yester-

SURROUNDED BY POSSE AND WOUNDED IN ARM CLARK KILLS HIMSELF

CLARK was discovered in the woods a mile from Chamblee and a posse of fully two hundred men quickly surrounded him. He was first seen by Colonel Walter P. Andrews, S. G. Collier, John McCreary, D. N. Williams and George Mathewson. Colonel Andrews fired at Clark, who half raised from a reclining posture with a pistol in each hand. He fired one shot at Colonel Andrews and then cried out:

"Don't shoot any more; I am shot." A second pistol shot was heard from the bushes where Clark had concealed himself. The posse closed about him, and when they reached his side it was found that he was dead, with a bullet hole in his breast. He had killed himself rather than submit to capture. The flame from his bullet had set his shirt on fire, and some of the posse beat out the fire with their hats.

Just before Clark was discovered, the woods had been set on fire to make him show himself, and, after he lay dead in the bushes the fire began to sweep near the place. To keep the body from being cremated, it was moved into a corn field and laid under a tree.

The reports of the rifles and pistols drew all the men near by who had been in the search, and soon two hundred men and youths, armed with rifles, shotguns and pistols, collected in the field and crowded about the dead body to get a sight of the man who terrorized the country for miles around for a night and a day.

The body was removed from the field in a wagon and taken to the depot, where it was placed in the freight room on a bench to await further orders from the coroner.

Then, and not till then, did women begin to unbar their doors. They had been left alone while the men joined in the search for the maddened murderer, and when the news came that the man was dead they felt for the first time in many hours that they could leave their homes in safety.

FORTY HOUSES SWEPT AWAY; 400 HOMELESS

Fire Destroyed Blocks in Closely Settled South Atlanta Negro District.

FIREMEN HELPLESS FOR LACK OF WATER

Those Burned Out Lost Practically Everything, Many Having Their Effects Burned After Being Taken From the Houses.

As the result of a fire which originated about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the corner of Martin street and the Jonesboro road, forty houses, with all their contents were reduced to ashes, about ten acres were swept bare by the resistless flames driven by a strong wind, between three and four hundred people were made homeless and destitute of clothes, and where was a few hours before a populous negro neighborhood is now only a forest of chimneys and smoulering ruins. The loss is estimated at $40,000, with only a few thousand dollars insurance.

The fire originated about 1 o'clock in the rear of the residence of Sidney Jackson, on the Jonesboro road, next to Buchanan's nursery. A fire which was built under a wash-pot was communicated to the house and in a few minutes the whole dwelling was in a blaze. A high wind was blowing, and as the panic-stricken negroes darted back and forth in wild excitement, the flames spread swiftly to the adjoining houses, and before the household goods could be pulled out the whole row of houses were blazing fiercely.

Lack of Water a Handicap.

Fire companies Nos. 7 and 10, and hook and ladder company No. 1 responded to the alarm, although the fire was some distance beyond the corporate limits. Although the firemen did gallant work they were thoroughly handicapped by lack of water, only one of the two available plugs furnishing a stream that would have extinguished a doll house. Assisted by the inhabitants, who were somewhat reassured by the appearance of the firemen, the latter succeeded in saving several houses by wetting the sides and swathing the roofs with wet blankets.

After the flames leaped the Jonesboro road they bore down rapidly upon crowded blocks of houses, which filled a space all the way from the road to the foot of the hill upon which are located the buildings of Gammon and Clark universities. As the helpless people stood and watched the resistless flames eating out a broad swath through their own little homesteads, they gave themselves up to despair, wringing their hands or working feverishly to save their household effects. As the flames billowed high into the air, licking up the smaller houses almost in a breath, there seemed no hope of saving a single house in the settlement, and Gammon and Clark universities seemed doomed to destruction. By using their small supply of water to wet down the houses which nestled at the foot of the hill, the fireman succeeded in saving several of these, which were located some distance from the main body, and prevented the flames from mounting the hill and destroying the college buildings upon its summit.

By 4 o'clock the fire had burnt itself

out, having eaten its way to the end of the densely built rows of houses and giving its last flare of defiance at the very foot of the hill which it could not mount. For hours afterwards, however, the firemen remained on the ruins, wetting thoroughly the smouldering heaps of embers, in order to prevent a renewal of the fire.

Victims Lost Everything.

Not only were the houses destroyed, but almost the entire household effects of forty families. In many instances the frightened people succeeded in getting their effects out of the houses, but were driven back by the heat, and were compelled to abandon the goods which they had almost saved.

The Bell Telephone Company sustained a loss of several hundred dollars on account of the loss of their wires connecting Atlanta wit hpoints to the south, which went down when the fire leaped across the Jonesboro road. For several hours, telephonic communication with Macon and other towns to the south was out off. A squad of linemen, however, was rushed to the scene and connection restored.

Among those whose houses were completely destroyed are the following: Ada L. Johnson, Jennie L. Johnson, Dilsie Elliott, Ida Curly, Ada Garlin, Carrie Barfield, H. R. Allen, W. A. Combs, Moses Jones, Andrew Johnson, Mary Lee, E. H. Oliver, Robert Spain, Elder Wilson, Albert Moss, John Bryant, Sidney Johnson, H. D. Kennedy, A. B. Ross, Mary Melton, Dr. Yates, professor in Clark university, Clora White, Bob Hunter, Carlos Pierson, Dr. Thomas, Burke, Brooks, Watts, John Bethel, John Crawley, Bessie Johnson, Jackson Feagin and others. Two fine houses, costing $3,000, and owned by J. P. Ray, one of them brand new, were burned.

The house of L. J. Price, although directly in the progress of the flames, was almost untouched, and Trinity church, which was also threatened, escaped the fire.

WELL DRESSED WOMAN STAMPEDED PEACHTREE BY DAREDEVIL DRIVING

DRIVING a smart little rig, and dressed faultlessly in the latest mode, a pretty young woman struck first astonishment and then terror into the hearts of pedestrians on Peachtree street last night by her daredevil driving. A score of people barely escaped with their lives as the young woman lashed her horse and bore down upon them like a whirlwind, and in a few moments Peachtree street was in a condition that bordered upon panic.

After driving down Peachtree, zigzagging perilously from one side of the street to the other, the woman who held the reins circled the Piedmont hotel block three times in the style of the chariot racer of the circus hippodrome, and then dashed off dokn Luckie street. The police, who had been making frantic efforts to overhaul the turnout, followed, but it was not until Marietta street had been reached that the young woman slackened her mad course and the officers were able to overtake her. Officers Reid and Wilson made the arrest.

When the young woman reached the police station she swept up and down the corridor, gesticulating like a tragedy queen. When the station sergeant inquired what her name was, she said in a highly dramatic manner, "I have no name." After a little coaxing, however, she vouchsafed in a stage whisper that her name was Vleo Vanderbilt, and that she hailed from New York.

The station sergeant, however, failed to enter this name on the docket. The real name of the young woman is Mrs. C. H. Crimes, and she was formerly a resident of Atlanta.

Ross Kline was also arrested in connection with this case. He had been driving around with the young woman during the afternoon, but she had "shaken" him before she began doing circus stunts up and down Peachtree.

ARREST BY ALLEGED "SCAB" TOO MUCH FOR BELL LINEMAN

BECAUSE, so it is claimed, C. L. Newman, one of the Bell telephone strikers, called Special Officer W. F. Bell a scab yesterday afternoon, and then refused to be arrested, it was necessary for Patrolman Harris to interpose and arrest Newman. Newman promptly submitted to Officer Harris, saying that he had no objection to arrest at the hands of a regular policeman, but that he did not intend to be arrested by a special telephone officer.

Bell claims that Newman, while passing the corner of South Pryor and Mitchell streets on a car, shouted at him, calling hi ma scab, and then together with another man, who was on the car with him, stepped off, and going over to where Bell was standing, behaved in a disorderly manner.

Newman, on the other hand, maintains that he applied no such epithet as scab to the special officer on the occasion mentioned, but admitted that he had called Bell a scab on a previous occasion.

Officer Harris knew nothing of the case, except that he saw that Bell was having trouble arresting Newman, and stepped in and took charge of the man. Newman was released on a small collateral put up by his friends.

Better Than Franchise Stock Investment

Talk-o-Phone Investment Talks—No. 6.

Have you money invested in gas companies, electric companies, telephone companies or any others of this class depending upon franchises? If so, we want to talk to you. These investments are becoming more and more hazardous as the municipal ownership movement spreads over this country.

A much safer and more profitable investment is TALK-O-PHONE stock.

THE TALK-O-PHONE COMPANY of Toledo, Ohio, began business two years ago with a paid-up capital of $500,000.

Today THE TALK-O-PHONE plant, one of the best equipped in the land, is valued at more than $2,000,000.

Under able and conservative management THE TALK-O-PHONE COMPANY has taken a foremost position in the ranks of competing manufacturers.

THE TALK-O-PHONE is known the country over, and is recognized as one of the best musical machines on the market.

Dealers will tell you that it is 33 1-3 per cent better than any other machine sold today.

In workmanship, material and construction THE TALK-O-PHONE is second to none.

That is why it is such a ready seller.

And that is why the demand for TALK-O-PHONES is much greater than the supply. To meet this demand is what we are striving for.

THE TALK-O-PHONE plant can turn out 750 machines daily. But to do so more capital is needed.

That explains the reason for the increase of the capital stock to $1,000,000.

The additional $500,000 is not for the purpose of extending the plant or buying more machinery—THAT IS NOT NECESSARY. As we have already said, THE TALK-O-PHONE plant is complete.

EVERY PENNY REALIZED ON THE NEW STOCK will be devoted to the increase of the business—to enlarge the output of TALK-O-PHONES to 750 a day, the full capacity of the plant.

Shares are now selling at $10 par value.

Why not invest now? Every stockholder will share in the semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent., which will be paid July 1.

Better investigate at once. Prospectus on request.

ONCE AGAIN DAN CUPID WINS.

Though Parents Objected, Miss Florence Cheshire and W. P. Jordan Were Married Sunday.

That love will find a way was again shown Sunday afternoon when, despite stern parental objection, Miss Florence Tuller Cheshire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cheshire, of 30 Angier avenue, and W. P. Jordan, of Rhodes-Haverty Furniture Company, were married in the pastor's study at the First Christian church in the presence of Ben Walker and Miss Rosa Lee Elliott.

Miss Cheshire, who has been teaching a private school in Waynesville, was in Atlanta Sunday and went out driving. On returning home she announced that she had been married but her parents thought the matter a joke. Monday morning Mrs. Jordan left for Waynesville, leaving her husband here and it was only last night that her parents learned of the wedding.

PLAN BAZAAR FOR SYNAGOGUE

Congregation of Beth Israel Will Give Big Event at the Turn Verein Hall June 4.

The congregation of Beth Israel will give a big bazaar at the Turn Verein hall, starting June 4, and lasting in the neighborhood of ten days, in order to raise money for the new synagogue, which is to be erected on the corner of Washington and Clark streets.

This building will cost $25,000. The lot on which it will be built was purchased at a cost of $7,500, making a total cost of over $32,000. The members of the congregation have already raised $10,000 of the $25,000 needed, and expect to clear something like $10,000 at the bazaar, as over $5,000 worth of articles have been contributed by friends.

HAS KILLED NOBODY, SAYS GEORGE COLLIER.

GEORGE COLLIER, owner of the Aragon hotel, and one of the best known young men in Atlanta, was greatly astonished to see in an afternoon paper yesterday that he claimed to have killed James H. Clark. Mr. Collier denies the story emphatically, and states that it does him a great injustice, as he was in the city all day attending to business relative to repairs being made at the hotel, and had nothing to do with the posse which pursued Clark. He says he made no statement to any newspaper man in reference to the Chamblee tragedy, and was astounded when he saw the statement that he claimed to have slain Clark.

TWO ATLANTA MEN CHASED INTO HIDING BY CLARK

Two Atlanta men were in Chamblee during the time that town was in the hands of James H. Clark, madman. They were Thomas Jackson and W. J. Govan, both well known.

The two gentlemen had taken a trip up to Chamblee to look over some property in that neighborhood, and, having made a short trip out of the town, were returning in a buggy.

"We pulled up at the leading store of the place in order to buy a couple of bottles of soda water," says Mr. Jackson, "when we were suddenly hailed and warned to keep clear of the place. Too late, however, the warning came—we had stopped directly in front of the store. I looked and saw the figure of a man in the rear of the building and heard a pistol shot. The bullet zoomed over our heads, and the horse dragged the buggy to the rear of the store, and there Mr. Govan and myself leaped out.

"The pair of us took to our heels and found refuge in a stable a short distance off. In the stable with us were several citizens of the town, all frightened nearly out of their wits, and the deputy sheriff. We stayed in the stable quite a while, and could hear shots fired at intervals, and from those we judged the insane man was still holding the high hand.

"Time for the train was near at hand, and, acordingly, Govan and myself decided to take a sneak around the village and come up on the other side of the depot. We did so, and came in no further contact with Clark. The last we heard was that Clark had a can of oil and was going in the direction of the Purcell house, declaring that he intended to burn it to the ground."

DEATH OF MADMAN BROUGHT GREAT RELIEF

The distance between the town of Chamblee and the scene of Clark's death is only a half mile or so, and every shot fired during the last five minutes of the desperado's last stand could be heard distinctly in the little town.

Every store and house in Chamblee was closed and the doors and windows were barricaded. A death-like hush was over the town, and to a visitor it seemed as if some great plague had settled upon the village. There were few persons to be seen on the streets, and they carried rifles slung across their shoulders.

The hands of the clock showed a few minutes after 1 o'clock when the sharp crack of a revolver sounded to the southeast of Chamblee. The first report was followed by others in rapid succession, and immediately Chamblee was a bedlam. The doors were unbarred, shutters flung open and the occupants came pouring into the yards. Armed men, who had been guarding their homes, left their posts and ran in the direction from which the shots came.

Then, from the scene of the shooting came men saying: "Jim Clark is dead." This sentence seemed to lift a load off the minds of the inhabitants, and soon the little town was filled with groups of persons gathered to discuss the night and day of terror.

NO ONE LEFT TO LOVE WOMAN COURTED DEATH

SAYING that she wanted to live no longer, because there was no one to love, Mrs. Allie Bridges swallowed about an ounce of laudanum at 9 o'clock last night at the Central hotel. Her action was observed, however, and she was immediately taken to the Grady hospital, where the stomach pump was brought into requisition.

The poison was removed before enough of it could be assimilated to kill the woman, and in an hour she was taken back to her hotel. She was accompanied by a man who claimed to be her husband. When asked why she had attempted to take her life, Mrs. Bridges repeated her statement, that she wanted to die, that she was all alone, and had no one to love her.

She begged the doctors to do nothing for her, saying that she wanted no one to interfere with the carrying out of her intentions.

NEGRO BODY SNATCHERS BELIEVED TO BE AT WORK

A MYSTERIOUS, uncovered grave, dug in the woods near the junction of the Lakewood car line and the belt line, the mysterious figure of a negro who was seen to approach the grave and later disappear with a large bok, going away through a large sewer, have caused considerable uneasiness among the people who live in the vicinity. Yesterday afternoon, A. C. Trotter sent a message to Call Officers Lindsay and Holcombe, asking them to come out and investigate the matter. The grave in the wodds and the uncanny appearance of the old darkey had worried the neighbors, and they thought that the strange actions of the negro should be looked into. An inspection of the grave showed nothing. Neither could anything be learned of the negro. The locality, however, will be watched and developments waited. Many of the people who live near are inclined to believe that the unknown negro is insane, but others have fears of something worse.

Millions Spent to Make Clean Beer

Cleanest Manufacturing Process Known Is That of the Leading American Brewery.

We regard beer as a food and the business of brewing beer one of our most important industries. When we tell our readers that without exception there is no other brewery in the world so absolutely clean in its process of manufacture as Pabst, we speak from exact knowledge of conditions. The monster Pabst Brewery at Milwaukee represents an outlay of millions of dollars and many of these millions have been expended to make the Pabst exclusive process absolutely clean. Pabst Beer stands alone today, the only food product that from the beginning to the end of its manufacture is absolutely beyond reach of even the contaminating germs of the air.

Doctors boil their instruments in water to sterilize them. Pabst boils his brew in closed kettles and thus sterilizes it. From there it passes through sterilized pipes to sterilized hermetically sealed tanks where it is fermented. Then through more sterilized pipes it goes to sterilized hermetically sealed storage tanks and when bottled it is pasteurized. Throughout the entire process it never is touched by human hands and comes in contact only with sterilized air. No other food product known can show such a record of positive cleanliness.

This process of manufacture is the exclusive Pabst method. It is one reason for the "always the same, always the best" reputation of Pabst Beer.

The cleanest beer and the richest beer, Pabst Beer has no equal as a mild, refreshing, healthful beverage.

TWO INJURED IN TRAIN WRECK

Columbus, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—The Central of Georgia passenger train from Andalusia, Ala., due here at noon, was wrecked today while passing through Girard, Ala. In hauling dirt across the railroad track at a crossing a good deal of it spilled on the track, and when the engine wheels struck the pile of dirt they jumped the track. Just beyond the crossing is a trestle over a 25-foot ravine. The engine would have plunged into this but the wheels were held on the trestle by a strip of timber nailed there as a guard. The trestle was crossed in this way, and on the other side the engine turned crosswise the track and buried its nose in the side of a cut, turning over on its side. The cab was partly crushed in and Engineer A. B. Moore was caught in the cab. Fireman Louis Culver crawled out through the top of the cab and pulled the engineer out. Both were slightly injured, but not seriously. None of the coaches were derailed. The front wheels of the baggage car jumped the track.

SHE WANTED FEDERAL AID TO PUNISH HER ASSAILANT

MACON, GA., May 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. Pope, the victim of Will Mormon, the negro who was lynched near Eastman, made a pathetic appeal to United States Marshal Georgs White here, just prior to the firing of a shot from her revolver which led to the negro's death. The marshal turned over the letter to Sheriff Rogers.

RAIL RATE BILL MAY PASS TODAY

Only the Anti-Pass Amendment To Be Considered.

General Hope Is That the Bill May Be Passed Today—The Personnel of the Commerce Commission Is Discussed.

Washington, May 15.—With the exception of the anti-pass amendment today the senate concluded its consideration of the railroad rate bill in committee of the whole, and as soon as that provision shall be disposed of, will take it up in the senate. The general expectation is that the pass question will be disposed of early tomorrow, and the general hope is that the bill may be passed before the close of tomorrow's session.

The pass question was brought to life again through the instrumentality of a motion made by Senator Culbermon, author of the original provision to reconsider the vote by which it was adopted, which was agreed to. A number of suggestions in the way of substitutes were presented, and these will have to be dealt with before the bill can be reported to the senate. After it is reported, several questions will be reopened.

The greater part of the day was spent in discussing the eighth section of the bill relating to the personnel of the interstate commerce commission, resulting in the elimination of the entire section and the restoration of the present law, which provides for five commissioners at salaries of $7,500.

COTTON SPINNERS HOLD CONVENTION

Three Hundred Delegates Are Already at Asheville.

The Public Will Be Admitted to All the Sessions in Order That the Manufacturers' Position May Be Fully Understood.

Asheville, N. C., May 15.—It is estimated that 300 delegates, representing 750,000 spindles, have already arrived here to attend the tenth annual convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, which opens at Kenilworth Inn tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Secretary Bryant stated tonight that he regarded this convention as the most important in the history of the association by reason of the fact that it will deal with questions which have attracted national attention during the past twelve months.

An unusual feature of this convention is the announcement that the public will be admitted to all sessions. This action is taken, it is said, in order that the people generally may know exactly how the cotton manufacturers stand on matters wherein their attitude has been questioned.

Lodge Cannot Come.

It was announced tonight that Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, will not be able to attend the convention by reason of the pressure of legislative duties at Washington. A meeting of the board of governors was held tonight to make corrections in the program, made necessary by the unavoidable absence of some of the delegates.

The opening session tomorrow morning will be called to order by President R. M. Miller, Jr. Governor R. B. Glenn will make the address of welcome on behalf of the state, and Alfred S. Barnard, mayor of Asheville, will welcome the delegates on behalf of the city.

When You have a Bad Breath

THAT'S the time to take a Cascaret.

—When your tongue is coated,

—When you have Heartburn, Belching, Acid Risings in throat,

—When Pimples begin to peep out,

—When your Stomach Gnaws or Burns,

—That's the time to check coming Constipation, Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

One single Candy Cascaret will do it if taken at the right minute, just when you first feel the need of it.

A "Cascaret in time is worth nine" later on.

Cascarets don't Purge, nor Weaken, nor waste Digestive Juices in flooding out the Bowels, like Salts, Castor Oil, "Physics."

But,—they act like Exercise on the Muscles that shrink and expand the Intestines, thus pushing the Food on Naturally to its Finish.

When the Bowel Muscles grow flabby weak, or lazy from want of Exercise, the Food does not tickle them enough to make them act.

That's Constipation!

Castor Oil, or "Physic" will help to slide out one load of trouble, but they can't help the Cause.

In fact, they weaken the Bowel-Muscles more than ever by slackening them, and by doing work for them which they should do for themselves.

When your Arm-Muscles grow flabby they need Exercise, to strengthen them—not a sling to support them.

When your Bowel-Muscles grow flabby they need Exercise to strengthen them—not "Physic" to pamper them.

Then carry the little ten-cent "Vest Pocket" box constantly with you, and take a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need it.

One Cascaret at a time will promptly cleanse a foul Breath, or Coated Tongue, thus proving clearly its ready, steady, sure, but mild and effective action.

Have the little 10c Emergency box of Cascarets constantly near you!

All Druggists sell them—over ten million boxes a year, for six years past.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

SEED CRUSHERS HELD SESSION AT PIEDMONT

Over Four Hundred Delegates Here From All Parts South.

MAYOR AND GOVERNOR HELPED GIVE WELCOME

Chairman L. A. Ransome Contributed Largely to Pleasure of the Meeting—Reports of Officers Showed Association in Good Shape.

One of the most important conventions ever held in Atlanta was that of the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association, which yesterday made its home in the old Georgia building at Piedmont park, over four hundred delegates from all parts of the south being present. While much of the business transacted and the reports made were of a technical nature, the importance of the great cotton seed industry makes the work of the convention one of general interest.

The building was well filled when Chairman L. A. Ransom, of the committee on arrangements, called the first session to order. After a short address of welcome on behalf of the Georgia Cotton Seed Crushers' Association, and assuring all members of the pleasure which their presence meant, both to Atlanta and the state association, he called upon Rev. Dr. C. P. Bridewell for the invocation.

Chairman Ransom, who, in addition to being a prominent Atlantan, is one of the hardest workers and most popular members of the association, made the introduction of each speaker in a decidedly clear and entertaining manner. These introductions had the effect of putting every one present, both speakers and hearers, in the best of humor, and the program was carried out with enthusiasm.

Welcomed by Governor.

Governor Terrell was particularly happy in extending his welcome to the guests as the chief executive of the state. "I have had the pleasure of welcoming many conventions during my terms as governor of Georgia, but in this particular instance I am especially glad for I believe that I am welcoming one of the strongest men ever gathered in the history of the state. As a young man I was in the cotton business in a small way. At that time we were inclined to think that the cotton seeds were in the way and superfluous. Now I understand that the seeds are among the most important portions of this valuable plant. This is so true that I wish I had remained in the cotton growing business as I believe I could have made money according to these present times of making money from what was one time looked upon as wasted material."

Governor Terrell reviewed the marvelous growth of Georgia agriculturally, industrially, and in a manufacturing way, and closed with an eloquent appeal in behalf of the coming exposition of 1910, and an earnest invitation to come to Georgia for the erection of oil mills, because in addition to the lowest of tax rates, the state offered such inducements as could not be found in any other section of the cotton belt.

In response to the welcome of Governor Terrell, President J. C. Hamilton, of the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association, delivered an address most complimentary to the enterprise and energy of the Empire State of the south and the progress of Atlanta as the metropolis of the southeast.

Chairman Ransom introduced Mayor James G. Woodward. Mayor Woodward's welcome was particularly sincere and hearty.

Vice President of the Association F. H. Bailey, of Paris, Tex., responded to the welcome of Mayor Woodward.

President Sam D. Jones, of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, welcomed the visitors in behalf of the business men of the city.

Ernest Lamar, of Selma, Ala., replied to Mr. Jones and proved to be one of the most eloquent speakers of the day.

The meeting was then adjourned, and all of the members enjoyed an elaborate lunch at the Piedmont Driving Club.

President Hamilton's Address.

The address of President Hamilton was the first matter considered at the afternoon session. He said in part, most of the address being of technical interest: "To help strengthen and upbuild our association members should incorporate in their contracts that any differences must be settled under the rules of this association, and not under the rules of any business exchanges. Stand by your association first and always, and soon every crusher and buyer will see the necessity for becoming a member.

"The bureau of publicity, the dues to which caused so much dissatisfaction that your executive committee deemed it advisable to suspend their collection during the past season, is one of the most progressive steps ever taken by this association, and should be maintained. Without adequate funds the bureau of publicity could do but little of what was contemplated by its conscientious and conservative members for this pioneer work.

"I think the annual dues should remain at $10, because there are many short-sighted people each having his influence, who need encouragement to even make this expenditure for its privileges, and the association needs a large membership.

"Another important matter from which you can all more readily, perhaps, see a quick return, is mutual insurance. In this connection, and from my own experience, this association and its members should insist that in the settlement of insurance losses on stocks, the market value, at the time of fire, as ascertained by the market quotations, at recognized centers, should be taken, as is the case with grain and cotton, and not what it has cost the manufacturers, thus leaving endless opportunity for a wrangle and loss of time in making a settlement."

Secretary Gibson's Report.

The report of Secretary and Treasurer Robert Gibson, of Dallas, Tex., included information and statistics of general information to the south.

This report in part follows:

"Gentlemen: Eight years ago the second annual convention of this association was held in this city. At that time the total membership was about 146, say 102 mills and refineries, and 44 associate members. Today our tenth annual convention shows a total of some 392 members, 252 mills and refineries and 140 associate members.

"I herewith give you our merbership by states on April 30:

States.	Total.
Alabama	22
Arkansas	10
California	1
Connecticut	1
Georgia	45
Illinois	15
Indiana	7
Indian Territory	5
Iowa	1
Kansas	3
Kentucky	3
Louisiana	50
Massachusetts	3
Mississippi	45
Missouri	11
New York	19
New Jersey	2
Nebraska	2
North Carolina	12
Ohio	10
Oklahoma Territory	2
Pennsylvania	2
South Carolina	25
Tennessee	25
Texas	79
Total	392

"This statement does not include some twenty-two members who paid their dues for the year and resigned, but the amount paid by them is shown in our receipts of cash.

Mutual Fire Insurance.

The report on mutual fire insurance by I. Jalonick, of Dallas, Tex., was of much interest to the members and many discussions followed. As this matter is now in a formulative state the press was requested not to publish the report.

The report of Chairman F. H. Bailey, of the permanent committee on rules, was another matter of purely technical interest to the members alone. Later the revising of the present rules of the association was taken up and led to much discussion; the report of the committee, however, was accepted with but few minor changes.

A progressive smoker at the new Kimball last night brought the day's session to a close. This smoker proved to be one of the happiest features of the day and many warm friendsships were formed.

Named by the President.

Wahsington, May 15.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate:

United States district judge, district of Porto Rico, Bernard S. Rodey, New Mexico.

United States attorney, western district of Arkansas, James K. Barnes.

You would not expect to sell many goods if you had no salesmen.

Every manufacturer should bear in mind the fact that it is possible to put salesmanship into type, and that advertising matter may contain the true elements of salesmanship, highly developed.

The salesmen can be in but one place at one time, while advertising speaks with thousands of tongues, and never sleeps. Another thing to remember is that the traveling salesman sees nobody but the dealer, and the dealer is uninterested if there is no demand for the goods.

Advertising goes into the home of the consumer and stays there, and the consumer is the final judge as to whether your goods are to be used or not.

The columns of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST can take your type salesmen into 700,000 homes, reaching 3,500,000 people. These people represent a very large proportion of all the people in the country who would be likely to buy your goods—provided you make an article which appeals to the best classes of the American people. THE POST is a weekly illustrated magazine of the highest grade, and possessing many distinctive features which make it a favorite in the homes of intelligent people.

DRUMMERS HAD 2,000 GUESTS

Retail Merchants in Savannah Territory Splendidly Entertained.

Savannah, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—This was a great day in Savannah for the members of Post A, of the Travelers' Protective Association and their guests, some two thousand retail merchants of this territory.

At 10 o'clock this morning the visitors and traveling men assembled at headquarters, Chatham artillery hall, where open house has been established. Half an hour later a grand street parade was started, with the military band from Fort Screven at its head. This endd at the theater, where, after prayer by Rev. Gilbert Ottman, an address of welcome to the visitors was delivered by Hon. Herman Myers, mayor. Response was made by Hon. J. W. Overstreet, of Sylvania.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock there was another assembly at headquarters, whence special cars were taken for the fair grounds, where trotting, pacing and running races, the purses in each being $300, were held. Some of the best horses of this vicinity were entered, and excellent sport was afforded. Ludicrous races, too, were presented, one being between mules and bulls, ridden without saddles.

Tonight a band concert was given at the opera house.

The drummers' gala entertainment will continue through Thursday.

POPULAR WITH GUARDSMEN.

Secretary Oliver Sends Information To Governors of States.

Washington, May 15.—Letters received by Assistant Secretary Oliver from governors of states in reply to his invitation to designate the military organzations whch they desire to encamp wth the regular troops indicate that the proposition is popular among national guardsmen beyond expectation. In fact, it has become evident that the limited appropriations for this feature will be entirely insufficient unless supplemented by congress, as many of the governors have replied to the invitation that they would like all their military organizations to enter the camps.

Therefore Mr. Oliver has been obliged to send out another letter to these governors stating that, for the present, the department will be able to care completely only for one regiment of infantry, one troop of cavalry and one battery of artillery from each state, providing these with subsistence, transportation and pay. If the governors desire to send more troops than these, the government can provide only for their transportation. As there appears to be a misunderstanding as to the cost of rations, the governors have been informed that the field ration is limited to 22 and the travel ration to 40 cents.

HOWARD'S VOTE IN THE EIGHTH

His Renomination Assured by Counties Which Have Acted.

Washington, May 15.—(Special)—Telegrams received here today announce that Hon. Fred Foster has withdrawn from the race for congress against Hon. W. M. Howard in the eighth Georgia district. This announcement was no surprise since Mr. Howard's renomination had already been assured by the action of a majority of the counties of the district. Of the twelve counties in the district, seven have acted, each of them going for Congressman Howard by a large majority. These seven counties have sixteen of the twenty-eight votes in the congressional convention. The record of the vote in these counties is as follows:

Franklin county, Howard 1,099, Foster 488; Elbert, Howard 1,451, Roster 159; Clark, Howard 1,479, Foster none; Green, Howard 541, Foster none; Hart, Howard 1,206, Foster 339; Madison, Howard 1,362, Foster 208; Oglethorpe, Howard 1,077; Foster 18.

This shows a total of 8,215 for Howard to 1,212 for Foster in the popular vote. Elbert has 4 votes in the convention and each of the other of these seven counties has 2 convention votes.

The five other counties which have not yet acted, their primaries being postponed until the state primary, are Wilkes, 4 votes, and Putman, Oconee, Oconee, Morgan and Jasper, with two votes each.

THREATS OF MADMAN AND COMPLETE DETAILS OF MURDER ATTEMPTS

MONDAY afternoon James H. Clark told several people at Chamblee that the Purcell family had broken up his love affair with Miss Nellie Gay, the 14-year-old sister of Mrs. Will Purcell. A number of people talked with him and tried to persuade him not to do anything rash. He got a bottle of whisky from Atlanta some time Monday and began to drink—the first time he was ever known to drink in his life.

At 7 o'clock he went to the home of Will Purcell and told them he would get revenge. Will Purcell's family went to the house of his father, E. S. Purcell, near by, and barricaded themselves. At 8 o'clock Clark went to the home of E. S. Purcell and demanded admittance. He was refused, and he secured an ax and battered down the front door. The Purcells opened fire on him and he returned it. Will Purcell slipped from the house and began to shoot at Clark. For several minutes there was a duel, and Will Purcell was shot.

During the fusilade of bullets fired into the Purcell house by Clark, E. S. Purcell was slightly wounded and W. S. Mask, day operator at Chamblee, and Frank Bilton, a boarder, received flesh wounds from bird shot which Clark fired from a shotgun.

Clark next tried to set fire to the Purcell house, and did not succeed. He left the place and went to a store, where he told what he had done, and said he was not through with his work. He fired into several houses as he passed them and shot at T. W. Jackson and W. J. Govan, of Atlanta. He visited the depot and asked the young man who had taken his place, for pistol cartridges. Securing none, he took $3 from the cash drawer and left his watch as collateral. He went to Dunwoody, which place he reached at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. In the store of Nash & Cheek he asked for cartridges. J. W. Cheek, of the firm, had been warned by telephone not to sell Clark any cartridges.

Clark drew his pistol and shot Cheek dead. He fired at Nash and the bullet struck a watch charm. Walking from the store, Clark tossed 75 cents on the floor and remarked to the old mother of Cheek, who was in a buggy, that he had killed a man to get what he wanted.

He walked down the railroad track, and, meeting Will Coker, shot at him and struck him with the butt end of his shotgun. All yesterday morning Clark lay hid in the woods.

GOUT? Oh, no, just the same old thing. Again his feet rebel at abuse!

JAMES CLARK RUNS AMUCK

day, the country for miles around Chamblee and Dunwoody was in a state of terror. The men armed themselves and left their homes while the women barricaded their doors and kept weapons at hand, expecting every minute for the madman to appear.

It was shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon that Clark was found in the woods a mile from Chamblee and there he killed himself by sending a bullet through his heart.

Clark was maddened because he was not allowed to pay attentins t the Miss Nellie Gay, the 14-year-old daughter of W. F. Gay, who lives 4 miles from Chamblee, in the direction of Stone Mountain.

COOLNESS OF LITTLE GIRL THREW CLARK INTO FRENZY

The girl had at first been kind to Clark, like a child to a man several years her senior. The love became a mania with him. He sought every opportunity to see her and talked of her at all tmes. When she discovred in what direction the man's attentions were leading she tried to avoid him and lately declined to see him. This only served to increase his passion and he began to suspect her family f keeping her from him.

He first attacked the Purcell family, where he tried to kill the inmates and fire the building. Then he went to Dunwoody early yesterday morning to buy cartridges for his pistols. The merchants had been notified by 'phone of his conduct the previous night and when W. J. Cheek refused to sell him the cartridges he shot him dead. He then fired upon W. R. Nash and later assaulted Will Coker, whom he met in the road.

Seven years ago Clark went to Chamblee to learn to be an operator, and he was taught the trade by L. V. Shore. He was a quiet young man who kept close at his work. He had no bad habits and had never been known to drink.

A few months ago he became infatuated with Miss Nellie Cay, who was scarcely more than a child. Her parents objected on account of the girl's age. Clark made several attempts to see the girl, and upon finding that he was no longer wanted, he became moody.

About a month ago he was ill with meningitis, and when he recovered he appeared to be more morose than ever.

A climax came when he went to his office Monday afternoon and telegraphed to the Southern railroad officers in the city that he would not be on duty that night. During the day he secured a bottle of whisky from Atlanta, and toward night it was noticed that he was drinking.

Mrs. Will Purcell has a boarding house near the depot, and Clark was one of her boarders. He went to the house Monday evening about 6 o'clock and told Mrs. Purcell that she and other members of her family had been instrumental in breaking up his love affair with Will Purcell's sister, Nellie Gay. He was very angry and made threats of having revenge for the way in which he had been treated. Mrs. Purcell was alarmed, and told her husband what Clark had said. Clark had told her if she informed on him he would kill her.

BROKE DOWN THE DOOR WITH BLOWS OF AN AX

When night came, Will Purcell, his wife, children and boarders went to the home of E. S. Purcell, about a hundred yards distant, to remain through the night, as it was feared Clark would do something rash. In the home of E. S. Purcell on Monday night were the following people:

E. S. Purcell and wife, Will Purcell and wife and children, Misses Della and Ida Purcell Pearce Beatty, W. S. Mask and Frank Bolton.

Mask had talked with Clark as a friend, and begged him to desist, but Clark paid no attention to him, and afterwards shot him.

Clark called the elder Purcell to the door, which was kept locked, and demanded admittance. He was told that he could not come in.

"Then I will break down the door," cried out Clark, "for I have come to kill every one of you."

He got an axe in the yard and began to batter down the door. After he had broken out the panels he was fired upon and retreated. A firing was kept up for several minutes by both sides. Will Purcell slipped out of the back door and shot at Clark from behind a clump of bushes. Clark returned the fire and wounded Purcell in the hip. Purcell could not walk and crawled back into the house.

All this time fully fifty shots were fired at Clark, and, as was afterwards ascertained, he was hit once in the left arm.

When the firing ceased it was ascertained that the elder Purcell had been shot in the hand and Mask and Bolton slightly wounded with birdshot.

At that time Clark had a double-barrel shotgun belonging to Will Purcell and three pistols.

Clark left the place, and 10 minutes later he returned with a can of kerosine, which he had secured at the depot, and he poured it on the side of the house and set it on fire. Thinking he had completed the job he left, but the flames were extinguished by E. S. Purcell.

Clark then went to a store at Chamblee and said:

"I have already done enough to get a life-time sentence in the chaingang and I might as well finish the job."

He tried to buy cartridges for his pistols and failed. As he was leaving the store he saw Thomas J. Jackson and W. J. Govan, of Atlanta, who had gone to Chamblee to look after some property, and he opened fire on them, but none of his shots took effect.

CHEEK FIRST MAN KILLED BY THE MADDENED CLARK

His next visit was to the depot, where he asked the young man who was working in his place for cartridges. He took $3 from the cash drawer with the remark:

"By God, I guess I can buy more cartridges."

Dr. J. W. Puckett, the brother-in-law of William J. Cheek, when he heard that Clark was trying to get more ammunition, telephoned to Dunwoody what had happened.

When he left Chamblee, Clark fired into a crowd of negroes, but did not hit any of them. A mile from the depot he fired into a passing freight train, but did not do any damage.

He continued his walk and turned up in Dunwoody at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning. He went into the store of Nash & Cheek. Standing at the door was a buggy, in which was the mother of I. W. Cheek, waiting to ride with him to the city.

Nash walked to the front of the store, and at that very moment Cheek was at the 'phone receiving the message from his brother-in-law, Dr. Puckett.

Cheek hurried to the side of his partner and said:

"Don't sell that man any cartridges, for he is crazed and has tried to kill several people."

In a moment Clark drew his pistol and fired at Cheek, the bullet taking effect in the heart, and producing death. He turned the weapon upon Nash and fired one shot. The bullet struck a Masonic watch-charm and glanced. The charm saved Nash's life.

NOTIFIED VICTIM'S MOTHER HE HAD SLAIN HER SON

Walking out of the door, Clark said to the mother of the man he had killed:

"I have got the cartridges, but I had to kill a man to get them."

He threw 75 cents on the floor and walked out.

Nash ran to his home to secure a gun, but when he returned Clark had disappeared.

The news that a madman and murderer was at large spread like wildfire. For miles around men armed themselves. There had been a night of terror around Chamblee, and there was to be a day of terror around both Chamblee and Dunwoody. It was a search to the death, for the man had to be captured dead or alive. County policemen went from Atlanta and deputy sheriffs from DeKalb and Cobb counties joined in the search.

It was learned yesterday at noon that Clark was seen a few miles west of Chamblee, and was making his way towards that place. A cordon of armed men was formed about the spot where he was last seen, and it slowly closed in upon him.

A stretch of woods was reached that was thick with weeds and underbrush. This was set on fire.

HE FIRED AT COL. ANDREWS AND THEN KILLED HIMSELF

At ten minutes after 1 o'clock, five members of the posse saw a man lying under a clump of bushes. They opened fire. The man raised on one elbow and looked about him. It was the fugitive. He saw that Colonel Walter Andrews was nearest to him, and he fired a shot at him. Colonel Andrews returned the shot. Then several others shot at Clark. With a pistol in each hand, Clark cried out;

"Don't shoot any more, for I am shot."

A pistol shot rang out from the bushes where he was hiding. He had shot and killed himself.

The firing was plainy heard at Chamblee, and two or three hundred people quickly gathered at the scene of the shooting.

The fire in the woods was approaching the dead body, and it was removed to an old corn field and laid under a tree.

Clark had three pistols and a flask of whisky. He wore no shoes, and his socks were worn threadbare from his long tramp through the woods. His shot gun was gone. His hat, a black derby, was found nearby. He had placed a wreath of honeysuckles around it.

After the corner of DeKalb county was notified, the body was removed to the depot, and the dead man's family at Cornelia notified.

The man-hunt was over. The women and children came out of their houses and met the men who had been gone from them all night and day. The madman was dead, and the reign of terror was over.

JAP-A-LAC
OAK or NATURAL
for Refrigerators

You cannot be too careful about keeping your refrigerator in a sanitary condition. The moisture and food make it unsanitary, and unless it is kept in perfect condition it will breed disease.

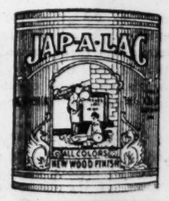

The outside of your refrigerator should be JAP-A-LAC-ED at least once a year. It would be better to give it one coat in the spring, and one in the fall. JAP-A-LAC preserves the wood, and protects it from the atmosphere. Unsightly, black mottled places caused by moisture, should never be allowed to show. Keep your refrigerator properly JAP-A-LAC-ED, and it will always look like new.

A few cents spring and fall will do it.

A WARNING AGAINST THE DEALER WHO SUBSTITUTES.

Some dealers will tell you when you ask for JAP-A-LAC: "We don't handle advertised articles. They cost you more, because the consumer pays for the advertising."

What a silly statement to make to an intelligent person. The fact is this: Any article of daily necessity, which is extensively advertised, must be the best, or the public will not buy it. What do you think about Ivory Soap, Sapolio and Uneeda Biscuit? Are they not the most extensively advertised of their class? So is JAP-A-LAC. Be sure you get it.

COURT TO HEAR GREENE-GAYNOR

Much Business Awaits This Term of Court.

For Several Months the Business of Judge Speer's Court Has Been Practically Suspended on Account of Demolition of Court Building.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—The calendar for the May term of the federal courts of Macon is being prepared, and the first regular session of Judge Speer's courts for a year will open early in June. For several months business has been practically suspended on account of the demolition of the federal building in this city. Quarters for the courts were first in one place and then another, and consequently it was difficult to transact business.

On this account there will be a large amount of business to be taken up when the dockets are called in the courts here. First to be disposed of will be the bill of exceptions for Greene and Gaynor. Other matters of considerable importance are set for hearing during the term, and the federal courts will be in session for the greater part of the summer.

The new quarters for the federal courts in the Grand building are now elegantly fitted up, and Judge Speer, as well as all the federal officials, are well pleased with their new habitations. They will remain in the Grand building until new court rooms are ready in the new federal building now in course of erection.

Macon, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Miss Bessie Millirons, a pretty school girl of the junior class at Gresham High school, just 16 years of age and one of the prettiest girl students of her class, was married to Edward Dame yesterday at noon at the residence of Rev. W. H. Seals, pastor of Centenary Methodist church, where the two went to make their vows. The young couple will reside with the groom's father, Mr. J. H. Dame, on College street.

Death Calls Little Orphan.

Macon, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Little Mattie Balks an inmate of the Methodist Orphans' home in Vineville died at the city hospital this morning after a brief illness. Superintendent Dozier had carried the child to the institution hoping to secure medical treatment which would restore her but her illness continued severe and she succumbed today. The funeral will be conducted at the home and interment will take place in the home cemetery.

Went to Temperance Rally Drunk.

Huntsville, Ala., May 15.—(Special.)—John Clark, a white man, from the county, was arrested at the Culpepper-Conley revival meetin gon a charge of public drunkenness and was fined $22.50 in the mayor's court. A temperance rally was being held in the gospel tent when Clark staggered in, took a seat and attracted the attention of the meeting to his condition by dropping asleep and falling out of his chair.

FIND NO TRACE OF ASSASSINS

Coroner's Jury Investigating the Murder of Ackerman Family.

Pensacola, Fla., May 15.—The investigation by the coroner's jury into the murder of W. G. Ackerman, his wife and seven children, who were found dead with their skulls crushed and bodies partly cremated in the smoking ruins of their home at Allentown, 10 miles north of Milton, Santa Rosa county, Florida, early yesterday morning, was continued at Milton throughout the day, but no verdict was reached. A large number of witnesses were examined and there are still several more to be heard. As far as can be ascertained, there has been no evidence thus far to convict any one with the deed. There is much excitement throughout the county and a subscription o fover $1,500 has been taken up which will be offered as a reward for the apprehension of the assassins. It is believed a verdict in the case will be reached some time tomorrow.

DUBLIN'S PRIMARY RESULTS.

The Administration Elected Two of the Three Candidates.

Dublin, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—J. A. Kelly, J. M. Williams and I. L. Anderson defeated H. G. Stevens, F. N. Watkins and J. M. Outler in the primary for the city at large. The administration elected two of the three men. The primary today was the hottest election ever held in Dublin. The balloting was done under the Australian system, and the heelers were eliminated. The voting was heavy, 486 votes being polled. The contest has been lively from start to finish. The administration ticket came out strong against bucket shops, pool rooms and immoral institutions.

A feature of the campaign was the charge made by the outs that the mayor and aldermen were using lights and water free, contrary to the charter of the city. The opposing tickets were dubbed "Ring," and "Scalawag," respectively. J. A. Kelley was voted for by both factions. He is a contractor, and received the vote of the laboring men. The successful contestants will be elected in July for a term of two years. The mayor and four aldermen from the four wards of the city will not be elected until 1907.

DYNAMITE TEARS MEN TO PIECES

Five Miners Killed and Twelve Are Badly Burned.

Explosion Occurred in a Mine Near Shenandoah, Pa.—All the Men Killed Were Mutilated Beyond Identification.

Shenandoah, Pa., May 15.—Five miners were torn to pieces and twelve badly burned by an explosion of dynamite in the Shenandoah City colliery of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company today. A box of dynamite which a workman was carrying fell from his shoulder and caused the explosion, which ignited the mine gas. There were about fifty men at work in the east gangway of the shaft when the explosion occurred, but, so far as known, all escaped except those working on the first lift. In this part of the shaft none escaped either death or injury. All the men killed were mutilated beyond identification.

The force of the concussion was terrible, doors were torn off and brattices were wrecked, every section of the mine feeling the effect of the shock. The work of rescue was begun at once by Division Superintendent Pollard and all the district superintendents.

The absence of the deadly black damp after the explosion made the work of rescue less hazardous. The force of the explosion was heard a great way from the mine, and friends and relatives of the miners rushed to the mine. So great was the crash it was necessary to call on the police to keep the crowds back.

All the killed and injured were foreigners. But little damage was done to the mine.

CHARTER GIVEN BRUNSWICK ROAD

Secretary of State Cook Held His Office Open Half Hour.

Secretary of State Phil Cook held his office open half an hour after closing time yesterday afternoon in order to grant a charter to George M. Brinson, of Emanuel county, for the "Brinson Railway," which is to be capitalized at $1,000,000, and which will run from Savannah to Athens, a distance of 180 miles. The train on which Mr. Brinson came for this important charter was late.

The charter is granted to the following incorporators: George M. Brinson, Charles Neville, Y. E. Bargeron, W. A. Beale, W. C. Myers, C. H. Mason, J. H. Bazemore, H. W. DeLoach, E. F. Rogers and W. L. Clarke, all of Emanuel county. The charter names the capital at the figure quoted, but allows it to be increased at the discretion of the stockholders.

The road will run out of Savannah in a northwesterly direction to Athens, passing through the following counties: Chatham, Effingham, Screven, Jenkins, Burke, Jefferson, McDuffie, Wilkes, Oglethorpe and Clarke.

Mr. Brinson stated that he had invested every cent he had in the world in this proposed line, and that he was going to push it to completion as rapidly as possible. He stated that work on it out of Savannah would begin on Monday morning, and that already he had surveyed 20 miles of the proposed right of way.

Mr. Brinson has long been associated with the Stillmore Air Line, which report has it that he recently sold at a good figures.

NEGRO WORKMEN WALK OUT.

Don't Like the Accommodations on Montgomery Street Cars.

Montgomery, Ala., May 15.—(Special)—The negroes are kicking over what they term unjust treatment of the street railway company and held a mass meeting to protest today. Tonight it is learned that all the negro shop and round house men of the company quit at sundown, giving no reason for such action. The negroes are provided with adequate accommodations with the whites, only being forced to ride in the rear of the cars.

Thin Clothes That Have Style

The most difficult problem that designers, cutters and tailors have to solve is in the making of light weight fabrics into garments that fit well, have good style and hold shape.

Are you "wide awake" when you get up in the morning, with a bright eye and a clear brain ready for the day's work?

Or do you have to "drag yourself out," and spend half the morning "getting your wits together?"

Maybe you're thinking too hard—but it's more likely you're eating too hard. Try for breakfast or luncheon tomorrow, and every day for a month, a dish of Apitezo, with milk or cream, and see if "that tired feeling" doesn't disappear.

Apitezo is all food, and it's good for all the family. It contains the same kind of nutriment that is found in meat and eggs, and every other element necessary to produce an abundance of rich, red blood.

Apitezo also contains vegetable iron—found in no other cereal—that keeps your blood in good condition.

from which quotations appear in said specification 2, charge 1, the following is made and found:

"1. That the accused impugns, if he does not assert his disbelief in and denial of, the doctrines set forth in paragraphs 1 and 4 of said specification 2, therein set forth as follows:

"1. The doctrine that our Lord Jesus Christ is God, the Saviour of the world.

"4. The doctrine of the blessed trinity.

Denies Conception of Holy Ghost.

"2. That by the use of the language quoted from said sermon in said specification 2, the accused expresses his disbelief in and impugns and denies the doctrines set forth in the paragraphs numbered 2 and 3 in said specification 2, as follows:

"2. The doctrine that our Lord Jesus Christ was conceived by the Holy Ghost.

"3. The doctrine of the virgin birth of our Lord Jesus Christ.

"Specification 1, charge 2. That the said accused did, by his said utterances contained in said book and sermon quoted aforesaid in the presentment, violate and break the declarations made by him at the time of his ordination."

The application made by counsel conducting the prosecution for leave to amend the presentment so as to include the year 1904, within the period covered by the allegations, is denied.

The court then announced its verdict.

Minority Report by Dr. Dunham.

Dr. Francis S. Dunham filed a minority report as follows:

"The undersigned, a member of the ecclesiastical court referred to in the foregoing, makes and files separate decision and report:

"Whereas the respondent constantly affirms his acceptance of all the articles of the Christian faith as contained in the apostles' creed, and,

"Whereas this creed declares the sacred mysteries of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and of the Most Holy Trinity and a belief in the resurrection of the body concerning which Eternal Verities of the Christian religion, the said respondent is called in question, I find from his own statements and the evidence submitted for his defense that his error consists rather in presuming to define what God has not been pleased to reveal and to interpret those doctrines in a manner not generally received by the church rather than in a denial or rejection of their truth and authority.

WAITING ON PRISON BOARD.

Americus May Have a Double Hanging Friday.

Americus, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Whether or not Americus will have a double hanging Friday is a question, nor yet officially determined. In the meanwhile George Broughton and John Graham, who are to play the principal roles in this grim tragedy, are wondering "where they are at." The time is short, but as yet the prison board, to which tribunal their cases were appealed, has not rendered a decision. The two condemned negroes are respited until Friday, and Sheriff Bell, as well as the attorneys for Broughton and Graham, are anxiously awaiting the action of the prison board. Little time for preparation will be required here, as the gallows can be erected within an hour, but the suspense and uncertainty upon the part of the negroes is trying. The general opinion here is that the prison board will not recommend executive clemency.

CZAR IS ORDERED TO OPEN PRISONS

Speaks Parliament in No Uncertain Tone on Amnesty.

Address in Reply to the Speech From the Throne in the Nature of a Demand—Ten Demands Are Made by the Parliament.

St. Petersburg, May 15.—The draft of the address to the throne, in reply to the emperor's speech at the opening of parliament, was submitted to the lower house of parliament today by the commission. It consists practically of the following ten demands:

1. General amnesty.
2. The abolition of the death penalty.
3. Suspension of martial law and all exceptional laws.
4. Full civil liberty.
5. The abolition of the council of the empire.
6. The revision of the fundamental law.
7. The establishment of the responsibility of ministers.
8. The right of interpellation.
9. Forced expropriation of land.
10. Guarantees of the rights of trades unions.

Forcing the Czar.

Before the house convened the cabinet virtually had decided on amnesty for political prisoners with the exception of those charged with murder, attempted murder, or robbery. While partial amnesty might have made a deep impression Thursday, had the emperor signalized the occasion of the assembling of parliament by such an act of grace, its favorable effect will be largely destroyed when thus forced from his hands.

There was a long wrangle at the opening of the session over the question of parliamentary procedure, etc., no rules to govern the house having been adopted.

The address in reply to the speech from the throne says:

"It has pleased your majesty in your speech addressed to the people's representatives, to express your determination unshakably to preserve the institutions whereby the people have been called to exercise legislative power in conjunction with their monarch. The parliament regards the monarch's formal promise to the people as a sure pledge of that consolidation and of the further development of order and legislation in accordance with a strictly constitutional basis."

Amnesty Demanded.

The reply to the speech concludes as follows:

"On the threshold of our labors, one question agitates the soul of the whole Russian population and prevents us from calmly entering upon our legislative work. The first word pronounced in parliament was amnesty. It was met with cries of sympathy. The country is thirsting for it. It is a demand of the people's conscience which it is impossible to refuse or delay. Sire, the parliament awaits full political amnesty as the first pledge of a mutual understanding in the future and concord between the emperor and the people."

SENT CHALLENGE TO FIGHT DUEL

Negro Did It Ignorantly and Governor Pardons Him.

Montgomery, Ala., May 15.—(Special.)—The governor has pardoned Spencer Webb, convicted about one year ago in Montgomery, for sending a challenge to another negro to fight a duel. It was agreed at the time of his conviction that he did not realize that he was violating any law, and that after he had served a short time the judge and solicitor were to ask the governor for a pardon.

Mose Williams, convicted in the spring of 1905, in Conecur county, and given a sentence of ten years for carnal knowledge, was also given his liberty. Judge Terry Richardson, who acted in place of the solicitor, agreed that after a short service a pardon was to be asked.

A third release from the service of the state is William Gunter, of Marengo county, convicted and given a short sentence for selling whisky. He is in bad shape with lung trouble, and is released on the advice of the medical department.

In all these cases the pardon board recommended mercy.

Putnam County Lads Will Raise Specimen Corn and Cotton.

Eatonton, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Between thirty and forty boys from the public schools of this county have entered the corn and cotton contest inaugurated by the College of Agriculture of the University of Georgia for 1906 for the purpose of studying these crops from a scientific standpoint.

Members of the county board of education have made up a handsome cash prize, besides the prizes, both cash and otherwise, offered by the business and professional citizens of the county. Under the rules governing the contests, an exhibit of the boys' efforts will be made in October, to be passed upon by the judges, and for the award of prizes, and the exhibits of those winning prizes will be forwarded to the state fair to compete for state prizes.

An interesting feature of the proposed county fair to be held here next fall will be the individual displays of these boys. The county fair authorities will offer appropriate prizes for these exhibits.

GEORGIA DIOCESE MEETS AT TRINITY

Columbus Entertains the Episcopalians This Week.

Already Many Are in the City, and Two Auxiliary Branches of the Church Are in Session and Have Accomplished Much Work.

Columbus, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—With the diocesan convention but one day off, and two auxiliary branches of the body already in session, the eyes of the Georgia Episcopalians are turned upon Columbus, and many of them are already on the scene in person. By tomorrow morning there will be a notable gathering of the representatives of this great church in Georgia. The convention, including the meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, will last through the entire week.

The woman's auxiliary on foreign and domestic missions met this morning at 10 o'clock at Trinity church, with twenty-two points represented and sixty-seven ladies in attendance. The afternoon trains brought other delegates, and the attendance at the afternoon and night sessions was larger. The convention opened with celebration of the holy communion, followed by an inspiring and impressive address by Bishop C. K. Nelson.

Mrs. Black Presided.

The business session of the auxiliary began at 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, of Atlanta, secretary of the auxiliary, presided in an interesting and tactful manner over the session, and by her enthusiasm did much to inspire a still greater interest in the proceedings. Mrs. Black has served only six months, having succeeded Mrs. Frank T. Miller, of Augusta, who gave up the work on account of trouble with her eyesight. The bishop said that he was glad to announce that Mrs. Miller's eyesight was improving, and the news was received with much gratification by the convention.

Reports Submitted.

Reports were submitted by the following officers:

Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, diocesan secretary; Miss M. Theresa Griffin, diocesan treasurer; custodian of united offering fund, Mrs. T. S. Lewis; baby branch work, Miss Annie Johnson, for Miss Minna Waring, who was prevented from being present by bereavement in her family; report of junior auxiliary work by Miss Nita Black, secretary of that branch of work in the diocese.

Mrs. Black Reappointed.

Bishop Nelson announced the appointment of the following officers of the woman's auxiliary:

Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, of Atlanta, diocesan secretary.

Miss M. Theresa Griffin, of Columbus, diocesan treasurer.

Mrs. T. S. Lewis, of Atlanta, custodian of united offering fund.

Secretaries for the woman's work in the seven arch deaconries of the state:

Savannah, Miss Annie C. Johnson; Atlanta, Mrs. Isabel O'Hear; Macon, Mrs. Mallory H. Taylor; Albany, Mrs. A. P. Wright; Athens, Miss Rosa Woodberry; Brunswick, Mrs. Charles Wylie; Augusta, Mrs. H. B. Alexander.

Miss Minna Waring, of Savannah, secretary of the baby branch.

Miss Nita Black, of Atlanta, secretary of junior auxiliary.

Committee Appointed.

Mrs. Black announced the appointment of the following committees:

Auditing—Miss Annie Johnson, Mrs. Isabel O'Hear.

Memorial—Mrs. William Elliott, Mrs. Ticknor, Mrs. Pettigrew.

Unfinished and New Business—Miss Rosa Woodberry, Mrs. Mallory H. Taylor, Miss Lambert.

Programme—Mrs. A. P. Wright, Mrs. Charles Wylie, Miss Woodberry, Mrs. H. B. Alexander.

Committee to Draft Resolutions Expressing Sympathy for Mrs. Miller, of Augusta, and Congratulating Her Upon Recovery of Her Eyesight—Mrs. Mallory Taylor, Mrs. T. S. Lewis.

In submitting her report as treasurer Miss Theresa Griffin said that it did not begin to represent the contributions of the Georgia diocese to missions and diocesan work, as several arch-deaconaries supported scholarships, and made other contributions in an individual way, the money not being reported to the diocesan treasurer, and the diocesan fund, therefore, not being credited with this money. She thought that the business-like way would be to report this money through the diocesan treasurer; the scholarships could still be kept up, and the money used for identically the same purposes it is now being used for, but the diocesan fund would get the benefit of it, in the report, and the mission and diocesan work would make that much better showing.

The Savannah delegates opposed this, saying that the present system had worked well, and that such a fundamental change was unwise, especially as in only one year's time the diocese will be divided into two dioceses, anyway, and then these matters can be arranged as to suit the two dioceses.

A resolution by Mrs. Mallory Taylor, of Macon, embodying the ideas of Miss Griffin, was adopted by the auxiliary, although there were a number of negative votes.

Afternoon Session.

At the afternoon session the reports of the secretaries of the various arch-deaconaries in the state were rendered. Pledges were made to the cause of missions and diocesan work, a goodly amount being pledged. At this session the committees appointed this morning made their reports, which were adopted by a rising vote. The auxiliary closed the business of the convention at the afternoon session. The Junior Auxiliary was in session in the Sunday school of Trinity church today.

IDENTIFIED AS FATHER GAPON

No Doubt That the Priest Was Killed By Revolutionists.

St. Petersburg, May 15.—At the inquest on the body of Father Gapon, which was found May 13 in the upper chamber in a villa in the summer suburb of Ozerki, Finland, M. Argolin, the former priest's lawer, positively identified the body.

The autopsy showed that he received a blow on the head, and the theory is that the revolutionists were listening in an adjoining room and heard Gapon betray his connection with the government and that Pulenburg, the terrorist leader who is said to have lured Gapon to his death, rushed in, felled him to the floor, and afterwards hanged him.

SUMMER RATES IN EFFECT AT THE BUSINESS COLLEGE

The Southern Shorthand and Business University Inaugurates Its Summer Prices

The summer rates of tuition of the Southern Shorthand and Business University, this city, are now in effect, and young people from all sections are availing themselves of the reduction. This special discount will be given only for a short time while the literary schools are closing, therefore applications for admission should be made as early as possible.

Southern Graduates Wanted.

A prominent business man said: "I want another young man like Miller, whom you sent to me sometime ago; the position pays $100 per month. Hereafter when I need office help, I shall apply to your school."

Salary $75 Per Month.

"Have you a young man that you think would make us a good assistant cashier in our bank? You will remember that you helped us to get Mr. J. T. Larkin, and he has proved very satisfactory, but he is going with the Merchants and Farmers' bank here in a few days at a salary of $75 per month. If you can get us another just such a boy, we will take him."

This letter was received yesterday from a banker in south Georgia, and almost every day the mails bring similar requests from all parts of the country to the Southern Shorthand and Business University, the recognized leader of commercial education in the south.

The Old Reliable Southern.

Too often people make mistakes in experimenting. Sometime ago a young man accepted a free scholarship from a new business school; spent three months attending said school, but says he made no progress. He then purchased a full scholarship in the Southern Shorthand and Business University, and four months later accepted a good position.

The Southern is the only business school in Atlanta that does not change hands about every twelve months. It has been under the same management, that of Messrs. A. C. Briscoe and L. W. Arnold, for seventeen years. They are personally acquainted with all the prominent business and professional men of Atlanta, consequently their pupils have a great advantage in securing positions over the pupils of other schools.

Best Systems.

The Graham Shorthand and Twentieth Century Bookkeeping, taught at the Southern, are undoubtedly the best, by actual comparisons and tests, in existence.

One school manager has championed three different systems of shorthand within the last twelve months. The Chartier, his last acquisition, was offered the Southern Shorthand and Business University by the author of that system, but was rejected because of its manifest inferiority.

THREE BISHOPS WILL BE CHOSEN

phis, spoke in favor of five bishops; E. G. B. Mann, of Kentucky, spoke for three bishops; Dr. J. O. Wilson, of South Carolina, wanted four bishops; W. B. Palmore, editor of The St. Louis Christian Advocate, favored two bishops.

Dr. Whitehead, chairman of the committee on episcopacy, told why the committee recommended the election of three bishops. He said that some of the bishops hardly had time to get acquainted with their families.

Three Recommended.

An average on requests was taken, and three bishops were recommended. James Anderson, of Arkansas, made a statement that the laymen had organized a movement for more than two bishops, and several members took exception to the statement. Dr. Anderson said he did not charge the laymen with intrigue.

Vote was then taken on the question as to the number of bishops to be elected. For three bishops the vote stood 181 to 71.

The attendance today at the eleventh business session of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, was as large as on the opening day. The devotional exercises were led by Rev. J. H. Weaver, of Lenoir, N. C., and the lesson of the day came from the forty-sixth Psalm. Dr. Duncan was the presiding officer. Hardly had the minutes been read and the presiding bishop introduced, when there were calls for the floor.

Bishops Select Wilson.

W. E. Williams, of northwest Texas, was recognized, and he announced that he desired to enter a protest against the action of the conference yesterday in voting to appoint a committee to draw up a new statement of faith. Charles M. Armstrong, of Baltimore, presented a written protest in the matter. At this point Bishop Hendrix announced that the college of bishops had agreed upon Bishop Wilson to represent the college on the committee. In the Armstrong protest it is asserted that members of the conference did not understand the purport of the motion, and that the paper adopted authorizes the committee to draw up any statement of faith whatsoever, and to frame without limitation any expression of doctrinal system which they may deem called for in our day.

The committee on episcopacy reported in the matter of a complaint of Rev. Cole D. Mann, of South Carolina, concerning a decision made by Bishop Wilson, saying that the committee had no jurisdiction and complainant had come before the wrong tribunal. The same committee recommended non-concurrence on petitions for a bishop in foreign field, and also non-concurred on petitions seeking a division of terkritory into episcopal districts. The committee on education recommended that the corresponding secretary or the general secretary of the general board of education bring to the attention of every annual conference matters of importance of local origin.

Committee on Extension.

The committee on extension recommended that a district board may be organized in any presiding elder's district with power to do and perform such acts in said district as city boards of church extension are authorized to do in the cities.

Non-concurrence was reported on memorials to increase the lay representation in annual conferences. It was recommended that a preacher shall be eligible to ordination without further examination. A non-concurrence report was made on the request looking to the removal of the headquarters of the church extension board from Louisville, Ky., to Oklahoma City.

NEWSPAPER MEN AT MONTGOMERY

They Attend Barbecue and Arrange for Many Discussions.

Montgomery, Ala., May 15.—(Special.)—The southern newspaper publishers arrived too late for a business session in the morning, and as soon as the welcoming speeches were made the party left on a special train for a barbecue at Jackson's lake. They were welcomed to the city by the president of the council, Gaston Gunter, and Major W. W. Screws, of The Montgomery Advertiser.

The response was made by H. H. Cabaniss, of Atlanta. The attendance is not so heavy as was expected. A business session was held this afternoon and this evening, at which matters of interest to the advertising and circulation men were discussed. There will be business sessions tomorrow. In the evening there will be a banquet at the Pickwick cafe, at which time Governor Jelks will speak to the toast, "Alabama."

Sues Company for $15,000.

Savannah, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—In the superior court today a suit was instituted by F. F. Wheeler and his son, F. F. Wheeler, Jr., against the Savannah Electric Company for $15,000 for the death of Mrs. Wheeler, who last October was killed by a stray bullet from the revolver of Conductor Moore, who was, it is alleged, drunk while in charge of his car, and began shooting at a passenger. Mrs. Wheeler was killed as she sat upon the front steps of her home. Moore is now serving a life sentence for the murder.

BOTH FACTIONS ENTER PRIMARY

Democrats of Chatham County Will Measure Strength.

Savannah, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—A meeting of the democratic executive committee was held tonight, and it was agreed to grant all the requests made by the anti-administration forces who made their entry the county primary of June 12 contingent upon such a grant. The democratic forces, therefore, will meet and be measured in the primary.

An incident of the day was the receipt by Chairman A. A. Lawrence, of the committee, from T. Mayhew Cunningham, president of the People's League, of a communication that Mr. Lawrence pronounced discourteous, and upon that ground returned to the writer. Later a new communication reached Mr. Lawrence that he regarded as courteous and submitted to the meeting tonight.

ATLANTA, GA., May 16, 1906.

"Back to the mines; the strike is off!"

Natural enough the pump trust has watered its stock.

Editor Rosewater, of The Omaha Bee, is also trying to cultivate the senatorial bee.

Why don't the republican party be consistent and logical and run Aldrich, of Rhode Island, for president?

The Monroe doctrine and the Calvo doctrine should stand together at the Pan-American congress in Rio.

Mr. Harriman says that the new San Francisco will be the safest city in the world. Well, make it sane, too.

Perhaps the Standard Oil Company was niggardly or nil in its contributions to the republican national committee in 1904.

The Topeka State Journal asks: "What would Roosevelt do if he lived in Kansas?" He would probably be crankier.

The drug trust will probably look pleasant if it has to take nothing worse than Dr. Garfield's immunity medicine.

The mother in law jokers can turn loose on the Chicago man whose wife is suing her mother for alienating his affections.

If Secretary Taft runs for the presidency in 1908 on his Panama canal record he will have to smoke up down on the isthmus.

It does not follow that because the president is "entirely satisfied" with the rate bill "compromise" the true friends of rate reform are satisfied.

The British in Zululand recently slaughtered 200 natives, sustaining a loss of but three wounded themselves. The white man's massacre burden seems to be easy enough.

Allison, the noted egg-walker of the senate, seems to have easily escorted President Roosevelt into the camp of the Aldrich-Foraker-Knox Philistines. They call it a "compromise." It is to laugh.

A York, Pa., man who is known as a teetotaller and a man of veracity in the community, reports that he saw a snake with feathers and two heads. Spring has a strange influence upon the imagination.

After the Cherokees had received an old claim for several million dollars from Uncle Sam, First Apostle Dowie announced that he felt a divine call to establish a Zion City among the Cherokees.

After Aldrich had had his little joke on the president by putting Tillman in charge of the rate bill, he got down to serious business and led the once great Teddy captive at the railroad chariot wheels.

Senator Morgan is about to take the floor and submit a few extended remarks on the Panama canal. The venerable Alabaman will not be in the least feazed by the three-day speaking record held by Senator LaFollette.

Looking straight at President Roosevelt an esteemed contemporary declares: "It is the man with the whitewash brush, and not the man with the rake, who is the dangerous factor in public affairs, and who deserves a place in the pillory."

Senator Latimer, of South Carolina, has introduced a bill to allow people along rural free delivery routes to make their own mail boxes instead of purchasing them from the government. This is a reasonable measure, calculated to help the patronage of the R. F. D. routes, and it ought to become a law.

Denatured alcohol is said to be used very extensively abroad as a means of supplying light and fuel. The next move in the business world may be the acquirement of all distilleries by Standard Oil.—Baltimore American.

We will first have to wait until the Standard Oil's legislative watchdog, Aldrich, allows the denatured alcohol bill to pass the senate.

The "Taft Doctrine."

Unprecedented conditions give rise, necessarily, to peculiar regulations. The remark is inspired by the action of Secretary Taft in informing certain inquirers from the republic of Panama that the United States will, with a vigorous hand, put to rout any revolutionary movement likely to interfere with progress on the canal.

The secretary's suggestion is worthy being embodied in definite form and honored with his name as the "Taft doctrine." We already have the Monroe doctrine, with which every school-boy is familiar. Then there is the Calve doctrine, originated by the celebrated South American who has just died, and which provides that private contractural obligations cannot be collected by force, as between countries.

The Taft doctrine would stipulate in a broad interpretation that work making toward development and civilization should not be affected by the chronic revolution habit, as it is practiced in South America. We could not, of course, hope to apply it to all countries on that continent, but its enforcement on the isthmus would set a notable example. By giving the truly constructive and industrial forces of Panama an opportunity to develop the country's natural resources, building up a national spirit and demonstating the folly and extravagance of fly-up-the-creek revolutions, we can imagine that the beneficent effect would soon manifest itself from the northern to the southern tip of the continent.

Meanwhile, it will be interesting to watch the effect of Mr. Taft's announcement on our feverish little Panama proteges, as well as their observant brethren further south.

Children and a Clean City.

The city of Chicago has inaugurated a movement which should find imitators in every municipality in America. The idea is to enlist every school child into the ranks of an organization called the "Clean City Club," which shall have as its object the improvement of the condition of the streets and yards and the gradual beautification of the windows and premises of the Windy City.

This wise suggestion, like many others, emanates from "Hull House," that splendid philanthropic institution which has its main inspiration from James Adams. The club has adopted a button, which will appeal peculiarly to the love of ornamentation in children, and is already reported as having a membership of several hundred. Recruiting is proceeding actively and the founders of the club are hoping that ere long its ranks will number several thousand energetic school children, all evangels of a sightlier and healthier Chicago.

The club has adopted four rules, simple of observance and extremely effectual in promoting the desired ends. Here they are:

Pick up at least one piece of paper from the street every day.

Clean your own back yard and porches and try to interest the boys and girls next door.

Keep at least one flower in the window.

Be smiling and clean yourself.

Habits of cleanliness and industry are more easily impressed on children than on adults. Therefore, the logical result of this movement, if it is encouraged with sufficient persistence, will be not only to produce a cleaner city in the immediate present, but to exert as well far-reaching efforts on the coming generation. Such crusades as these are moreover, contagious, and parents are likely to eventually form the habit adopted by the child.

Personal and general cleanliness, such as this little movement engenders, as well as the optimism it preaches, are most invaluable assets in the life of any municipality. While Atlanta has a high record in this regard, her school population could be made effectual assistants to the sanitary and street-cleaning departments, while at the same time reaping the tremendous moral benefit which accrues from the formation of wholesome habits.

The suggestion is distinctly worth consideration.

Steel Making in Georgia.

The Constitution related Sunday in nutshell form the tale of a local manufacturing enterprise, the projectors of which have virtually blazed a trail to an enterprise new in the state and one which promises to attain far reaching importance in the development of the Greater Atlanta. We refer to the operations of the Atlanta Steel Hoop Company, whose furnaces began to produce basic open hearth steel last week

This metal is used by the company in the manufacture of its own products, and the scope of its business is best told in the following extract from the article in this paper, describing the territory covered and the variety of articles shipped out:

Every mill is running to its fullest capacity, and the citizens of Atlanta will be surprised to know of the magnitude of this enterprise right in their midst. This company is shipping nails to all points in Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee, as well as all other material it makes, such as steel hoops, cotton ties, rounds, light steel T rails, etc.

There is, of course, a wholesome lesson in the faith which led some of the most prominent business men of Atlanta to embark in this enterprise, the initiative they have since displayed in vastly extending its operations, and the manner in which they have been substantially rewarded. Business was commenced in June, 1901, with one mill and fifty hands. The plant now covers many acres, several buildings, employs 500 skilled laborers with an annual pay roll approximating $300,000 and has added in the neighborhood of 2,500 people to the population of Atlanta. These facts alone are sufficient indication of the Atlanta spirit, as well as a guarantee of ample returns on money invested in industries located at this city

The larger lesson, however, lies in the stimulating effect it must exert on the establishment of similar industries in this section. The Constitution has, on innumerable occasions, called attention to Atlanta as offering an excellent site for the operation of large and small manufacturing enterprises. It is so situated that it commands a territory almost illimitable in crude material, access is convenient, and from the city radiate railroads reaching every section of the southern states. We are in quick touch with the coal and ore fields of Georgia as well as the more extensive ones of Alabama, and transportation facilities are being improved constantly. In view of these facts, there is no reason why Atlanta should not be the center of tremendous steel manufacturing enterprises, making its own material and sending from the city finished products into every corner of the south.

The company cited has shown the way; its energetic and progressive promoters have, with a due proportion of boldness and conservatism, proved the possibilities in this direction. It should not be a great length of time before there are followers along the trail they have so successfully blazed.

THE ALABAMA PLEDGE.

(From The Macon Telegraph.)

It is reported that there is to be an "indignation" meeting held in Forsyth today to denounce the democratic executive committee for adopting democratic rules for a democratic primary.

If this is so, and if any democrats have been misled into supposing that the Georgia committee has acted contrary to sound sense and good democratic policy, it might help them to know what the democrats in other states are doing. The following is the democratic rule adopted this year in Alabama:

Be it further resolved, That all white voters who are qualified electors under the laws of the state, and who are democrats, shall have the right to vote in such primary election, provided, however, that no person who opposed the nominees of the democratic party in the last state and congressional elections, or voted against any of them, shall have the right to vote in said primary.

Fourth—Resolved further, That each and every person voting in such primary shall by the act of so voting and participating therein, stand as pledged, and in honor bound to support all the nominees of such primary in the election and for the offices for which such nominees are nominated therein.

Our rule is mild by the side of this one. There is no "cordial" invitation in this to return. Not a bit of it.

RACE IS WARM IN THOMAS.

Five Men Are in the Contest for the Legislature.

Thomasville, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—On the eve of the Thomas county primary considerable interest is being displayed in the battle that will be fought out tomorrow. One of the hottest campaigns in the history of Thomas county has been in progress during the past few weeks. Five men are in the race for the legislature. The contestants are W. I. MacIntyre and J. B. Way, of Thomasville; M. L. Cook, of Boston; J. B. Stubbs, of Ochlochnee, and W. M. Davis, of Meigs.

Four men are in the race for tax receiver, G. W. Howard, the incumbent; A. A. Alligood, S. L. Kent and Mr. White. G. T. Gandy and Berry C. Johnson are running a close race for coroner. Sheriff T. J. Hight, Tax Collector P. S. Heeth, Treasurer John F. Parker, Clark J. W. Groover and Ordinary W. M. Jones will be elected without opposition.

"The Defendant."

"The Dependent," edited and published at Greenville, Ga., by Misses Jewell Irwin and Martha Hill, is probably the most unique publication in the state. Its apparent object is to get all the amusement possible out of everything and everybody, although the editors chase the "delinquent" subscriber with an energy which betokens a fine eye for business. The frankness of their comments on local affairs is striking, and many of the references to persons are exceedingly pointed.

These accomplished young ladies exhibt anything but a dependent spirit, and a perusal of their bright paper would never suggest its name.

Bullock and Brown Chosen.

Memphis, May 15.—Bullock was elected book agent, and R. P. Brown was named as editor of The Christian Index at today's meeting of the negro Methodist conference.

Reflections of an Author.

We hunger and thirst for Fame; and when Fame comes we've lost the spirit to enjoy it.

Some of the great works of genius were composed in miserable garrets; but the authors generally had the door locked on the inside, with the bureau and washstand against it, to boot, in order to keep the unappreciative bailiffs back.

We show our appreciation of the great author by giving him a monument after death. Wouldn't it be more to his advantage if we gave him an interest in a first-class marble yard while living?

His Comfortable Way.

A Billville letter, from which we are permitted to use the following, reads:

"John, old feller, this is to let you know that your uncle is in jail, an' wants you to send him his fiddle, his slippers, a jug o' the Kind o' corn licker he likes best, an' a hymn book with the hymns he knows in it, so's he won't lose his religion in them ungodly surroundings."

BILL BROWN FOUND GUILTY.

He Was Charged With Having Used a Billy on J. L. Denton in Globe Saloon.

Bill Brown was found guilty yesterday morning in the city court of using a billy on J. L. Denton, in the Globe saloon, January 31.

Denton, who is a contractor, stated that he went into the saloon to look for several of his workmen, and that, as he entered, some one called his attention to two other men robbing an old man who was drunk and unable to help himself.

He stepped to the telephone to call the police, and then, according to Denton, Bill Brown remarked that he could not run his own saloon.

Words led to blows. Denton says that Brown hit him with a billy. It was also claimed that Brown hit Denton with a screw driver.

Brown will be sentenced by Judge Calhoun this morning.

NO JURISDICTION OVER LINES.

Alabama Railroad Commission Won't Touch Street Car Lines.

Montgomery, Ala., May 15.—(Special.)—The railroad commission today held that it had no jurisdiction over the street railway lines of Birmingham; that though they carried some freight, they were not railroads in the sense of the commission law. The matter of the Southern railway running all passenger trains through Sheffield was postponed.

DOUGLAS VOTERS RALLY AROUND CLARK HOWELL

He Is Greeted by a Large and Enthusiastic Audience at Douglasville.

ISSUES OF CAMPAIGN FORCIBLY DISCUSSED

Mr. Howell Exposes Disfranchisement Fraud and Shows Inconsistency of Hoke Smith—He Defends the Honest Democratic Officials of Georgia.

By FRED LEWIS.

Douglasville, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Clark Howell's strength in Douglas county has been growing and extending ever since he began his campaign, his friends here assured him, and they all expressed delight that his visit and address here today have greatly added to that strength and brought many new and enthusiastic followers to his standard.

"That speech made at least a hundred votes and it will make others," said a well-known county official whose familiarity with the county and its people cannot be questioned.

Indeed this seemed in everyway to be borne out by the attitude of his audience, one of the largest that ever assembled in the county, and by the many who came to congratulate him after his address and to assure him of their support.

Voters came here from every section of the county to hear Mr. Howell. Many of these came to see him at the Mills hotel and to say that this was the only obect of their visit.

Given Generous Reception.

On his arrival a delegation of prominent citizens of Douglas county met Mr. Howell at the train while many others came to see him at the hotel immediately after his arrival. Among the prominent citizens of Douglas, well-known Howell men who met him and told him they were going to do all in their power to make the county his, were W. J. Camp, farmer; R. E. James, postmaster; Dr. J. L. Selman; Judge J. A. Pittman, ordinary; R. B. McGee, farmer; J. S. Giles, farmer; Colonel J. S. James, lawyer; J. J. Hollis, mechanic; W. C. Dorris, farmer; J. H. Selman, merchant; T. H. Selman, farmer and former county treasurer; P. H. McGouirk, merchant; H. J. Mills, hotel man; O. T. Selman, marshal; Dr. F. M. Stewart; H. Furr, merchant; E. R. Stewart, merchant; B. G. Griggs, lawyer; R. M. Smith, former tax receiver, and many others equally well-known throughout the county.

A Splendid Audience.

Mr. Howell spoke in the court room at the noon recess of court, Judge Bartlett adjourning to give time for the occasion.

Douglas county's court room is one of the largest in the state, covering practically the entire upper floor of the courthouse, excepting the jury room. Perhaps there is no court room in Georgia with a greater seating capacity, and yet the large court room was crowded with voters from all parts of the county. It was an audience of solid citizenry, the voters of Douglas, and those familiar with the courthouse and its capacity, did not hesitate to say there were fully 600 voters present, not including others who came to hear the address.

One interesting and important fact that was apparent, was that the vast majority of the audience has no sympathy with the disfrnchisement fraud, and they did not propose to give it their indorsement. They have learned with what danger it is fraught to the state and they are going to put upon it the stamp of their disapproval

Mayor McLarty's Introduction.

Hon. J. H. McLarty, mayor of Douglasville, and one of Douglas county's best known citizens, introduced Mr. Howell to his audience in a brief but earnest speech, commending his record and work in behalf of his state and its people.

"We have with us today a distinguished Georgian, a candidate for governor," Mayor McLarty said. "Several years years ago when I was a mere boy and visited Atlanta. I was attracted to him as a member of the legislature on account of the faithfulness with which he performed his every duty and the ability with which he devoted himself to that duty. I have watched his career through a period of almost twenty years, as editor, as legislator, as president of the senate, and it gives me pleasure to say, as I believe it does to every unprejudiced Georgian, that no man can say aught against his record, or that he ever failed to discharge a duty with which he was confronted. In every campaign he has always stood true to the principles of democracy, and he has fought always for those principles regardless of the results to himself. In days gone by, when others failed to come up to the mark, he always stood true to the party faith, and yet he has always been ready and willing to hold out the olive branch to those who were oposed to him. And, above all, he has ever worked and held out for the rights of the people of his state, as his record will show."

Howell Well Received.

The applause that filled the court room as Mr. Howell confronted his audience was a generous greeting to the speaker.

Mr. Howell thanked Mayor McLarty for his generous introduction, and said there was quite a difference between a candidate as presented to an audience by a friend and a candidate as viewed from the standpoint of his opponents.

"If you want to find out all about yourself, if you want to learn some things about yourself which you never knew before, and which nobody else ever knew or heard of before, just become a candidate for office," Mr. Howell said amidst laughter.

The disfranchisement issue was dealt with by Mr. Howell in a forceful and able argument, showing not only the lack of necessity for any such legislation in Georgia, but that even the discussion of it was fraught with danger to the state. The fruits of this discussion, he said, are already apparent in the stimulus to negro education all over the state, and the consequenct disturbance of labor conditions which are worse now, particularly in the farming districts, than ever were before.

To Reason, Not Passion.

"I am here to discuss with you the issues and questions of the campaign in a calm and dispassionate manner," Mr. Howell said. "I seek to appeal to your reason and judgment, and not to your passions and prejudices as others are doing, for I would not have the office of governor or any other office if I had to get it by seeking to arouse the passions and prejudices of the people." (Applause.)

Mr. Howell showed that it would be impossible to pass any disfranchisement law which, if honestly administered, would disfranchise the ignorant negro without at the same time disfranchising thousands of illiterate and uneducated white men. And vice versa such a law must admit to the ballot box the votes of educated negroes along with the votes of educated white men.

With this danger to the state, the disfranchisement of many whites, and the enfranchisement of many educated negroes, he showed, this proposed legislation is fraught. He argued the folly of trying to upset a plan which has been tried for years, under which the negro has been absolutely eliminated from politics in Georgia, and under which white supremacy has been more firmly and more lastingly established from year to year, ever since the civil war, and putting in its place an untried system, which could only mean disaster to the state.

Mr. Watson's Platform.

Having shown the firm establishment of white supremacy in every county in the state, and how only a few years ago Hoke Smith, realizing this, fought the same disfranchisement law when it was proposed in the legislature until it went down in inglorious defeat, Mr. Howell told of Thomas E. Watson's attitude toward it.

It was right here in Douglasville that Mr. Watson said in his Fourth of July speech that the Anglo-Saxon who would stand before a white audience in Georgia and seek to array class against class and race against race by placing before them "the phantom of the danger of negro domination," was an "infernal coward."

"Mr. Watson was right, I stand today right where Mr. Watson did then," Mr. Howell said. "The man who would do that is an infernal coward." (Applause.)

Mr. Watson, in his Atlanta speech in 1904, less than two years ago, reaffirmed this same sentiment when he declared the cry of negro domination was a delusion and a humbug, invented for political purposes.

A Record Unassailed.

Despite their efforts to find something to attack in his public record, Mr. Howell showed that his adversaries had signally failed, and in order to prejudice the people against him, had been forced to make general charges, to the support and proof of which they could not bring a single vote, action, item or incident.

"Unable to find anything to attack; unablt to show that I have ever been otherwise than true to the interests of the people in all that I have ever done, they stand before you and cry: Nigger! Nigger! Nigger!' and 'Railroad! Railroad! Railroad!' and seek to herd you like sheep. (Applause.) It's an insult to the intelligence of the good people of this state." (Applause.)

Mr. Howell clearly explained his position, which was evidently in line with the views entertained by his hearers. Douglas county is now in great expectation of getting a new railroad like a branch of the Atlantic and Birmingham, built by Boston capital. They want it; they are anxious that it should come and help develop their community. And feeling this way about it, they showed they were not ready to indorse to the program of confiscation announced by Hoke Smith in his opening speech and in his pamphlet sent broadcast over the state, in which he said he favored preventing the operation of railroads in Georgia by foreign capital, and that he would put on the block and sell all railroad property operated by outside corporations. Douglas county citizens showed by their applause that they were not prepared to indorse such a plan as this which would hinder and retard their progress and development.

Made Many Friends.

Mr. Howell was greeted with frequent applause during his address; his audience seemed generously in line with his views and sentiments, and its expression was even more strong and cordial as he concluded. Many came to him from every part of the great audience which heard him, to offer their congratulations and assurances of support. So great was the crowd that gathered around him that it was some minutees before Judge Bartlett could resume the court proceedings.

Mr. Howell was assured on every hand that his address had made him many friends in Douglas county.

GENEROUS DEED BY SCHURZ.

He Refused Commission Unless His Friend Was Honored, Too.

New York, May 15.—Carl Schurz, who died yesterday, in 1863 declined a major generalship proffered by President Lincoln unless his friend, General Julius H. Staehl, of this city, received equal recognition at the same time. General Schurz wrote to the president a letter, which he handed to General Staehl with a request that he forward it as soon as he had read it. The letter excited the profound gratitude of General Staehl, and he refused to send it. Later, when President Lincoln commissioned both Schurz and Staehl major generals, General Staehl called on President Lincoln and placed the letter in his hands. General Staehl, who is 81 years of age, has guarded this letetr for years as perhaps his most precious treasure, showing it only to his most intimate friends.

General Staehl said:

"I well remember the day I called on the president to thank him for honoring me. I gave the letter which General Schurz had previously written and had never been sent because I had refused to put it in the mail. President Lincoln read the letter, and then, turning to me, said:

"'It's a noble letter, Staehl. It's just like Schurz.'"

ARMITAGE'S HEAD BLOWN OFF.

Prominent Citizen of Tennessee Meets Tragic Fate.

Greenville, Tenn., May 15.—Charles H. Armitage, a prominent citizen of Greene county, met a tragic death this morning on his farm 6 miles from Greenville. Mr. Armitage had loaded his shotgun, intending to shoot into a flock of crows. The gun, however, failed to fire. Subsequently, in attempting to remove the load from the gun, it suddenly discharged and Mr. Armitage's head was blown off, killing him instantly.

STATE DOCTORS WILL ORGANIZE NEW SOCIETY

Prominent Physicians From All Parts of Georgia Interested In Movement.

NOT FORMED TO FIGHT PRESENT ASSOCIATION

Those Who Are Working for the New Organization Say It Will Have Many New and Very Valuable Features.

A new state medical association is now being formed through the efforts of a number of the leading physicians of Georgia and will shortly be launched with a large membership.

Those promoting the new association insist that in organizing it they are in no sense making a fight on the present Georgia Medical Association, which two years ago was amalgamated with the American Medical Association, but that they simply object to some features of the national association and are forming a body in which they will be free to act for themselves. No one will be excluded on account of membership in any other association, but on the other hand those interested in the new association hope that many members of the old association will also become members of the new body.

Many New Features.

It is declared that the new association will have many valuable features which have never before been introduced by a medical society in this section, and through it it is hoped that much will be done for the advancement of medical science in Georgia, and consequently for the general good.

Great interest is being shown in the movement all over Georgia, and at a preliminary meeting to be held in Atlanta at an early date leading physicians from every part of the state will be present. For several days a number of prominent physicians have been in consultation in Atlanta and as a result a circular letter is being sent out to the doctors of the state in the interest of the new organization.

Dr. W. W. Stewart, of Columbus, a member of the state board of health, who is taking a prominent part in the organization of the new association, when seen by a representative of The Constitution at first refused to make any statement at all, but after being shown that The Constitution was in full possession of the facts as to the movement and being assured that publication was going to be made whether or not official authorization was given, said:

Leading Physician Talks.

"Yes, it is true that we are organizing a new medical association; in fact, it is practically organized. We intend to make the new association a great force in Georgia, but it must be distinctly understood that we are not making a fight on the Georgia Medical association. Some of us are opposed to the amalgamation of the old society to which we were greatly attached with the American Medical Association, and did not care to put ourselves under the restrictions required by membership in that body. Our association will be open to all reputable physicians, and we trust that many of those in the Georgia Medical Association will also unite with our association, which is to have many new features which we are confident will be of great value to the profession in Georgia.

"I would like to say in regard to this association that its organization is not in the slightest degree retaliative toward the present Georgia Medical Association, as it will have quite a number of peculiar features never before incorporated in the plan of action of any medical association, making it unique amongst all others. To become enrolled in its membership will be as advantageous to those now in the old association as to those who are forming the new society."

The Letter Sent Out.

The circular letter sent out is in part as follows:

"We believe this call will in every part of the state be received by the doctors as glad tidings of joy, as it means the organization of a state medical association hampered in no way by national influence and in every way an old high standard Georgia Medical Association for the furtherance of scientific research and the infusion into its members of high ethical principles with brotherly love, giving every right to all and no special privileges to any.

"With your valuable cooperation in this movement we feel that to organize such an association is a matter of the greatest ease. It is not the purpose of this association to exclude from membership men belonging to any other association or scientific organization. The only requirement for organization therein will be that he be a properly graduated physician from some reputable institution recognized as being a regular school in good repute, indorsed only to the extent required by our old Georgia association, membership in local organizations being a matter left entirely to himself."

JORDAN AND SMITH SPEAK.

Addressed Alabama State Cotton Association Yesterday.

Montgomery, Ala., May 15.—(Special.)—President Harvie Jordan and E. D. Smith, of the Southern Cotton Association, spoke here today at the meeting of the State Cotton Association.

Gaines Elected Superintendent.

Newnan, Ga., May 15.—(Special.)—Major J. W. Gaines, of Hartsville, S. C., has been elected superintendent of the Newnan public schools, succeeding Professor B. F. Pickett, who resigned some weeks since to accept the presidency of Gordon Institute, Barnesville, Ga.

DIVIDENDS

Dividends will commence in less than six weeks on the stock of the Uncle Sam Oil Company of Kansas. There is only about one-tenth of this valuable stock left unsold and that is being taken every hour. Money received on stock and from sales of refined oil for week ending May 6th totaled $15,600.00, while for week ending May 12th, with one good mail to hear from, was over $17,000.00. Over one-quarter of million dollars have been subscribed for this stock at the same price asked herein of you.

Thousands are figuring on purchasing part of this stock, and record-breaking remittances are certain to follow during the next few weeks. Better send your order in early and secure some of this dividend stock before it is all sold or doubled in value.

During the next sixty days the earning capacity of this growing enterprise will have been increased Ten Times by the completion of the great river refinery, Uncle Sam No. 2, by Atchison, and also Uncle Sam refinery No 3 at Tulsa, Indian Territory; and sixty days longer the earning capacity will again be increased nearly double and will continue to increase until Uncle Sam chain of three great refineries will be up to 18,000 barrels daily capacity. With the balance of the stock sold at the old price of twenty cents per share, will place this great independent enterprise to where it can safely enlarge from time to time to this capacity.

Another great oiler was completed last week on Eleven Hundred acre Lot 43, Osage, and another Uncle Sam drill is down today within 48 hours' run of the pay dirt and may develop the greatest oil pool in the Osage country. This stock is not only offered at a price that is right, but by development the assets back of it are continuously increasing.

Miles of pipe-line are arriving daily. Pipe-line pumping stations are being completed, and it is to crowd all this great work to final completion that this stock is offered at the present low price. By investing a few hundred dollars in Uncle Sam now you will not only help a good cause on to grander success, but will secure a safe dividend investment that you will not have the opportunity to procure right away again.

Successful Oil Burner for Cook Stoves and Heaters Secured by Uncle Sam--Will Revolutionize the Fuel Business of the Missouri Valley and Sound the Death Knell of the Oppressor Oil Trust.

Dividend Will Be Paid June 20, 1906.

There are few weeks left yet that you can secure stock in the Uncle Sam Oil Company, and participate in the first dividend to be paid by the company. If the stock is not all sold by June 20, it is safe to figure that it will be much higher or quickly picked up after the first dividend is paid. There are now nearly eight thousand stockholders, and they are continually increasing their holdings and inducing their friends to buy. The days are limited that you or anyone will be able to secure Uncle Sam stock. Better send in your remittance while the price is right.

Why Uncle Sam Offers You a Good Deal.

It is the common talk among business men that this stock could be sold for more money. However, this company has a great work to complete and by selling the balance of the stock at even the 20 cents per share will be able to place itself where it can build, too, as large as it desires. For the past five months the stock has been selling at 30 cents per share until now close to one-quarter of a million dollars has been subscribed at that price. This money has all gone into the enterprise and everyone knows that under these conditions the stock is a good buy even at 35 cents per share. However, the company figures that by rushing the work to completion it can soon make back all that it loses on the low price of stock. Consider what the company has accomplished in the past five months and you will have to admit that you are offered a rare opportunity of investment herein. One that is commanding respect and consideration from investors from all over the United States and one that you will have to avail yourself of at once or it will be all sold.

Remittances Are Strong.

Up to date there has been paid into this company over 1-2 million dollars. Men are buying stock today that purchased stock on the start. Over one thousand inquiries have been received for this stock during the last few days. There are thousands of the stockholders who will buy stock during the next ten days. There will be others who will wait too long and be too late. Remittances for the past two weeks total over thirty-two thousand dollars ($32,000). Next week they will not run under twenty thousand and may go a half higher. The faster the remittances are received that much faster the work will be crowded. We solicit you to join our band and help push the good work on to success.

Big River Refinery Nearly Completed.

On the banks of navigation, where it will be free from any criminal combines of the railroads and the Oil trust, Uncle Sam Refinery No. 3, at Atchison, is nearing completion. The material is all on the ground, and it is just a question of days until this plant will be ready for business. Don't wait until this great revenue getter is fully completed, and then expect stock at even 50 cents per share.

First Pipe Line Pumping Station Nearly Completed.

During the last week two more of the mammoth pipe line pumps have arrived. Uncle Sam will have five large pumping stations and 135 miles of main trunk pipe line completed during the next sixty days. The first pumping plant to be built was completed this week just north of Uncle Sam Refinery No. 1 at Cherryvale. The men are now at work on another pumping station near Tyro, Kansas, and will go from there to Bartlesville some time next week.

More Pipe Line Arriving Daily.

Two more car loads of pipe line were unloaded yesterday and eight miles more are on the road. Fifty miles more will be shipped during the next four weeks. It takes lots of money to complete refineries and build miles of pipe line, but when they are once completed they are the biggest money makers on earth. The quicker we can place the balance of this stock the quicker we can unload pipe line, and the company will make a special effort to raise sixty thousand dollars for the pipe line department alone during the next fifteen days, after which this stock may be advanced to a half dollar per share.

Strikes Another Great Oiler.

As was to be expected, Uncle Sam drillers completed another fortune-maker in Eleven Hundred Acre Lot 13, Osage. At this writing the drills are lined up double-breast, following close on the trail of what oil men believe will develop the greatest oil pool of the Osage country. One of the drills is now within 48 hours' run of the pay dirt. It is going deeper every hour and is operating day and night. The oil sand has been increasing for several locations towards where the drills are now going down. Big gushers have been found in the past, and Uncle Sam may have one before another quotation is made on this stock. If you delay until a three thousand (3,000) barrel well puts this stock out of your reach it will be your fault. While you hesitate the drill may penetrate the oil pool. Uncle Sam already has a settled profluction in this one property of nearly five hundred (500) barrels per day. This oil, when manufactured into the different by-products, will bring nearly $5 per barrel. There is merit back of this stock on every hand, and you will make no mistake if you invest a few hundred or a thousand dollars now while the stock is certain to grow into great value.

Sixty Thousand Oil Burners Will Be Installed in Kansas by Early Fall.

For the past six months Uncle Sam men have been working on an oil burner for cook stove and heater. One that is a success has now been completed. An order has already been placed for 15,000 of these burners and at least 60,000 of them will be installed in that many Kansas homes by early fall. This burner feeds the oil so as to generate a gas and burns the gas so that 100 gallons of oil is equal to one ton of the best coal. It looks very much like this burner would revolutionize the fuel business in Kansas and adjoining states and will open up in time a market for 200,000 barrels of oil daily for domestic purposes in the Missouri valley. It makes Kansas and Indian Territory crude too valuable to feed great furnaces and will force the large manufacturer to return to buying of coal and will hence help the poor coal miners who are struggling for living prices for their labor. At the same time will break the grip of the oppressive Oil trust, as it will open a larger market for crude oil than can be secured from all the oil fields yet discovered in the United States.

Uncle Sam, with its score of large distributing stations already completed, can build large cisterns at once for storage and supply the surrounding territory. There are some happy surprises ahead for the owners of Uncle Sam stock on this burner deal alone. The Oil trust for years has offered large bonuses for a domestic fuel burner--not to place in the homes of the nation to give the people the benefit of nature's best fuel, but have always cornered and smothered the same. However, as was to be expected, this great Uncle Sam enterprise that was forced into existence on account of certain large producing companies in the Cherryvale oil district being blacklisted by the oppressing trust, has secured control of an invention that may advance Uncle Sam stock to a far greater price than the most enthusiastic ever hoped for.

Means Reasonable Domestic Fuel for the Missouri Valley.

A cook stove burner will consume about fifty gallons of oil during the summer months and about seventy-five gallons during the winter, while 125 gallons will supply an ordinary heater during the coldest winter months. There are over 450,000 homes in Kansas alone. Everyone, excepting a few that are now securing cheap gas, will want from one to three burners. Oklahoma, Colorado, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas and Illinois will rank right up with Kansas on an average for fuel burners. We say it will revolutionize the domestic fuel problem. Come down to Cherryvale and see for them at work and we think you will agree that this burner may put Uncle Sam stock away up. As before stated Uncle Sam is doing things. Our managers are working nearly day and night to make Uncle Sam supreme in the oil fields regardless of the dirty millions of the trust and the trust's perjured hirelings who continuously attempt to hinder our progress, but to no avail.

Work Progressing on Uncle Sam Refinery No. 3.

On the banks of the Arkansas by Tulsa, in the very heart of the greatest oil field in the West, Refinery No. 3 for Uncle Sam will be completed during the next sixty days. The big boilers arrived this week. Several carloads of structural steel will be shipped the first of next week and other shipments will follow rapidly. A large lubricating plant will be built at Tulsa and a refined oil line built down the Arkansas river to Fort Smith, from where refined oil will be shipped by light barges to the Southern markets, after supplying all of Oklahoma and Northern Texas and Arkansas.

Million Dollars Cash and Ten Thousand Stockholders.

Will soon be back of Uncle Sam. With this vast strength it will be able to protect the interests of the smallest stockholders. If you have money to invest--and most everyone has--don't scare at shadows, but remember that Uncle Sam with its pipe lines and river barges completed can market oil just as economically as the trust and considerably more so, for the public in general despises the methods of the trust and favor Uncle Sam wherever given the chance, and they will soon have the chance in every principal city in Kansas and neighboring states.

In 60 Days Will Be Able to Save 34 Cents Per Barrel Over Pipe Line.

Uncle Sam company does not expect to have the main trunk pipe line completed clear through to the river for probably six months; however, every mile completed will add that much to the savings of the company. With pipe line now contracted for and partly shipped the company during the next 60 days will have completed so as to save 34 cents per barrel. Even on one thousand barrels per day this will mean $340 per day while capacity of line will be between 2,700 and 3,400 daily.

Why You Should Invest Now.

The time for any investor to secure a good deal is when the other fellow needs money. Now while Uncle Sam is raising more money than any time during the life of the company, still just at this time we need more in order to crowd the work. Just look ahead sixty days and consider what will be the condition then. Both of the last two big refineries will be completed and paid for. At least eight more large producing oilers will be completed and the 135 miles of pipe line will be completed. Thousands of oil burners will be installed. More distributing stations completed and the cash sales on oil will be close to two thousand dollars per day and all other departments of this great organization advanced accordingly. Certainly you cannot afford to turn down an investment in Uncle Sam stock under these conditions, which can be proven unless you desire to insult your own pocketbook.

Should Build Up to Eighteen Thousand Barrels Daily In Two Years.

It takes time for any great enterprise to get thoroughly on its feet. However, give Uncle Sam time and you will see in two years that the refining capacity will be close to eighteen thousand barrels daily. The power of the Oil trust has reached its zenith and is going down hill. There is an opening for Uncle Sam and Uncle Sam is going to fill it. There are millions to be easily made in refining oil besides the great domestic fuel business that is now certain that will be handled in addition to the different refineries. Uncle Sam will grow stronger every hour, and the stock is bound to increase as the company advances as natural consequence. 1910 COMMITTEE TO MEET TODAY

Will Arrange Details for Big Mass Meeting Tuesday.

Atlanta Contractors Held Meeting in Council Chamber Last Night. Many New Subscriptions Received Yesterday by Secretary Cooper.

The committee of twenty-five will hold an important meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the chamber of commerce rooms to arrange all the details for the big mass meeting which will be held Tuesday night at the Grand opera house in the interests of the big 1910 exposition.

Secretary Cooper stated yesterday that he had received very encouraging reports from the different committees appointed some time ago to canvass certain blocks in the city, and that he felt certain that a very large sum would be reported at the big mass meeting.

The money raised by these committees is not being given out for publication, the sums published being what might be called the floating subscriptions, money sent in to Mr. Cooper direct, or reaching him through some other source than the committee.

Mr. Cooper believes that each one of the thirty committees will report at least $1,000 raised, making a total of over $30,000. The chairman of one committee recently informed him that he had already secured $1,700 and that he expected to get several thousands more in a hurry.

Contractors at Work.

Atlanta's contractors interested in the 1910 exposition gathered in the council chamber last night in goodly numbers to consider ways and means by which the exposition fund could be augmented by that branch of Atlanta's arm of industry.

Sam Jones, president of the chamber of commerce, occupied the chair and presented Building Inspector Pittman, who outlined the object of the meeting. Presenting a tabulated report, Mr. Pittman made quite plain the great good that had come to Atlanta by the expositions of the past. The number of new buildings added after each of the expositions and the value of each as well as the total value was presented. Every contractor present expressed enthusiastically his desire and his wish to push the 1910 show to a successful start. Various plans and ideas were advanced by the contractors and a resolution disposing of the question providing for a division of the contractors of the city into committees of two each to canvass that line of work in Atlanta for funds was adopted.

Secretary Cooper agreed to furnish the committees, after they had been formed with a complete list of all artisans in that line who might be benefited by the exposition so that the committees might call upon them for subscriptions.

WILL NOT BUY BLENDED GOODS

Carolina Dispensary Commission Will Blend Their Whisky Hereafter.

Columbia, S. C., May 15.--(Special.)--The state board of dispensary directors today adopted a resolution introduced by Director Wylie putting into operation Senator Tillman's suggestion made to the investigating committee during his examination while the legislature was in session, and repeated on a number of other occasions, not to buy any more blended whisky in bulk, bu to get all the stock from bonded ware houses and have the blending done at the state dispensary by the commissioner.

The resolution, however, does not include the purchase of case goods selling for $1.25 a quart and upwards, nor "high wines," and "is not intended to prevent the purchase of other brands of whisky the trade may demand."

The board also adopted a readjustment of salaries for dispenser, placing the salary roll on a merit system, the pay being more in proportion to the business done than heretofore. This means a slight raise all along the line. The highest salary paid now will be $100 month, though four are getting as low as $35 a month.

Fulbright and Nesbit Win.

Waynesboro, Ga., May 15.--(Special.)--The primary held today was a quiet affair, there being but little opposition to the old ticket. Allen Johnston was elected sheriff over the incombent, C. W. Hurst, by a small majority, and the members elected to the legislature were Hon. H. J. Fullbright and Hon. Daniel E. Nesbit. S. H. Jones was defeated. There was no opposition to the rest of the ticket. There was little interest taken in the election.

BUSINESS MEN ATTEND NOON TORREY MEETING

Meetings Today.

12:05 NOON—Meeting for business men in Kimball house ball room

3 P. M.—Song service in auditorium.

3:30 P. M.—Dr. Torrey preaches in auditorium.

7 P. M.—Mr. Jacoby at Central Congregational.

7:30 P. M.—Song service in auditorium.

8 P. M.—Dr. Torrey preaches in auditorium.

By Edward Young Clark, Jr.

THE noon meetings of the Torrey-Alexander mission opened yesterday morning under encouraging conditions. A representative number of business men were on hand, and many pledged themselves to bring some one with them today. Dr. Torrey gave a strong biblical address on the Bible, showing clearly how firmly is his faith imbedded in the integrity of the Holy Scriptures.

The night meeting at the auditorium was not so well attended. The singing was good, but lacked the enthusiasm of the meetings during the first week of the mission. Dr. Torrey took the same text as on the night before, but handled it a little differently.

He showed in strong but simple way "What must be done with Jesus." He said that every person in the house had Jesus on his or her hands, and that something must be done with Him. He outlined the many things that are done to Christ by those who have Him on their hands, and admonished his hearers to be wise and accept Jesus as their personal Savior.

The afternoon meeting was attended about the same as the one the day before. The best part of the meeting was the "testimony meeting," which occurred just after the regular service. A number of persons testified to the joy obtained through conversion and the living of a Christian life.

Dr. Torrey's Sermon.

At the afternoon service Dr. Torrey said in part:

"I was speaking to you yesterday afternoon about the importance of personal hand-to-hand work in soul-winning. I want to talk to you today about the conditions of success in personal work in soul-winning. I take it for granted that you all want to do it. But it is one thing to want to do it and it is another thing to do it successfully. This book which I hold in my hand tells us many wonderful things in a very simple way, and among the wonderful things it tells us how any one of us can have success in soul-winning, and it tells us that in the simplest way imaginable. Turn first to Luke xxii, 32--our Lord's words to Simon Peter: 'I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.'

"'When thou art converted, when thou art converted, when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.' In other words, our Lord Jesus says if we are going to save anybody else, we must first of all be thoroughly converted ourselves. That is the trouble oftentimes. It is like trying to lift a man out of a hole if you are down in the hole yourself. When you get out of the hole you can lift somebody else out.

"To be thoroughly converted, you must surrender absolutely to God. You are not thoroughly converted unless you can sing from your heart, 'I surrender all.' All is a small word, but it is a very big word; one of the shortest, but one of the biggest words of our language. A good many of us can sing, 'I surrender some, I surrender a good deal;' we can sing, 'I surrender most everything,' but when it comes to singing 'I surrender all,' we cannot do it. But do you know that is the greatest secret of power there is in the world, absolute surrender to God? We read in Acts, v, 32, that 'we are witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that they obey Him.' That is what obedience means, absolute surrender to God. Have you made it?

Nothing Like Love.

"There is nothing like love. One night I went out into the suburbs of Chicago to hold a meeting, and when I gave out the invitation I saw a man get up at the end of the hall, a great big fellow weighing 290 pounds, I hurried down when the meeting was over and sat down beside him, and found that he really meant it. He accepted Christ and came out very clearly, and has been a great worker ever since. After I had talked with him he said 'Mr. Torrey, would you like to know why I came tonight and accepted Christ? I have been a church-goer for years, and when I lived in Chicago I attended your church. I went to prayer meeting every week, but I simply went to criticize, and when a man got up and said anything in prayer meeting, I took a little note-book out of my pocket and put down what he said, and during the week I would watch his life and see if he carried out what he said in prayer meeting. I just went to church to keep tab on the hypocrites.

"'One day a minister came in to see me, a stranger, and he said, "I came in to read some scripture with you and pray with you. Do you object?" I said, "Oh, no, I don't object." I was watching him out of the corner of my eye, and as I watched I saw a tear stealing down that man's face, and I said to myself as I lay there, "Here is a man to whom you are a perfect stranger, who is so concerned about your soul, that you are not concerned about yourself, that he is weeping over you!" That broke my heart, and I said, "This man is real." That is why I am here tonight, and that is why I have accepted Christ.'

"Listen, I do not believe there is an old infidel in this town that you cannot win by love. I do not believe there is an old drunkard in Atlanta that you cannot win by love. I do not believe there is a gambler or bartender or whisky seller or criminal in Atlanta that cannot be won by love.

"'He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.' Some will say, 'I believe that, but I have not got any love. What shall I do?' Go and ask God to give you love. God has got more love than He has anything else in the world. God is love. God is willing to impart His love to you.

"Let us just hold our pitchers up to God today for God just to fill them with love, love for the lost, and then let us go forth, loving and weeping over sin, bearing precious seed, and we shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing our sheaves with us."

Will Elect Jenkins' Successor.

Jenkins, county commissioner, will be chosen. Several candidates will announce. Messrs. Early White and Dr. J. F. Hearl have been already mentioned, and will probably become candidates.

CHANGES MADE IN LIQUOR TAX

Tax Committee Recommends Three Grades of Taxes.

All Agents for Real Estate Dealers Selling on Commission Will Be Taxed Ten Dollars a Year. Several Minor Changes Made.

At a meeting of the tax committee yesterday afternoon, it was decided to establish three grades of tax for all dealers in liquors. Before this time there have been just two grades.

By the change made by the committee, which will be reported to council for final action, the retail liquor dealer will be required to pay a tax of $1,000, being allowed to sell from a drink up to 5 gallons; the wholesaler, who sells from one quart up, will be taxed $500 a year, and the regular wholesaler, selling from 5 gallons up, will be asked to contribute $200.

T. C. Battle, as representative of some sixteen of the smaller wholesalers, appeared before the tax committee and argued that the tax now imposed, that is $200, which applies to all wholesale dealers, is sufficient, and that to increase it would have the effect of driving a number of owners out of the business.

The tax committee also decided to impose a tax of $10 a year on all agents for real estate agents now selling on commission. Before this time it has been impossible to reach these agents, as the license of the man for whom they worked covered them all.

A new tax will be imposed on all railroads of $50. The tax on telegraph companies was raised from $100 to $500; wholesale dry goods merchants from $25 to $50; debenture companies from $50 to $100.

After making these and a few other minor changes the tax committee decided to adopt the tax ordinance of 1905 and 1906, reporting the same to council for adoption at the June meeting.

NEGRO HANGED FOR MURDER.

Willie Gordon Pays Penalty for Killing a Woman.

Lawrenceville, Ga., May 15.--(Special.) Willie Gordon, colored, was executed here today at 1:20 o'clock for the murder of Rachael Hunt, colored, at Buford, February 15, last.

Before the prisoner was removed from the county jail to the gallows, about 1,500 people assembled near the jail to hear his last speech. He said he was ready to go, and warned all the living to abstain from the use of whisky, pistols and dancing, as these evils were the cause of his downfall and death. The execution being in private, there was no apparent excitement, and Sheriff Martin and his guards had no trouble in carrying out the sentence of the court.

ROOSEVELT AND OPEN MARKET.

Washington, May 15.--The president today transmitted to congress a letter from Secretary Taft, accompanied by numerous appendices, bearing on the controverted question of the right of the isthmian canal commission to purchase supplies abroad if they can be secured cheaper than in America. The president, in a letter to Secretary Taft says that the views expressed by the latter, in the affirmative, have his full approval.

ELECTRIC FAN FIRES SCHOOL

Fire in Tenth street school yesterday morning threatened the lives of some five hundred children, a panic being averted by the coolness of the teachers and the excellent discipline which has been maintained in the school.

The children were marched from the school into a vacant lot by the principal, Mrs. Dunlap, and her assistants, and from that point watched the firemen extinguish the flames.

It is supposed that the fire started from heat generated by an electric fan in the basement of the Tenth street school. In revolving the bands of the machine became heated, igniting the woodwork.

The fire lasted in the neighborhood of half an hour. It is not believed, however, that any great damage was done to the building.

Caring for the Children of the Working Women.

ONE of the most interesting sessions of the national Conference of Charities and Corrections, which have been holding in Philadelphia, was that devoted to the subject of "Caring for the Children of Working Women."

What the day nursery means to women who toil, its growth in numbers from 90 to 295 since 1892, and its wonderful growth in scope and influence, was brought home by Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, of New York, president of the Federation of Day Nurseries. From a tiny, local institution for feeding babies and stilling their cries, it has spread up through its own kindergartens, meetings for the instruction and encouragement of mothers, and industrial classes for older children, into a national organization of acknowledged social and educational force.

In opening, Mrs. Dodge outlined the tasks which the federation faced:

"The fundamental idea is the same in all—the caring for young children whose mothers must work, but each nursery had been working out the problems of its own locality, unable to take advantage of the experience of others, until ten years ago, when the federation established an office as a common center from which information could be obtained.

"There is no charitable institution whose administration is more affected by the varying social, economic and industrial life of the community in which it is established. These conditions as they exist in the large cities of the middle west and of the east are quite different from those of the south, the Pacific coast and some parts of New England.

"The day nursery is acknowledged to be the earliest educational influence available for the children it seeks to help. Taking the baby of ten days, he is prepared through carefully nurtured infancy and through kindergarten age to enter the public school, better equipped to meet its requirements than most pupils who enter the lower grades. The expansion of this work from the primary idea of feeding and housing babies to its present scope, which includes kindergartens, educational work for mothers, industrial classes for older children, summer outings and family visiting, touches the interests of both philanthropic and educational organizations.

"At the time of the first conference held in 1892, there were only ninety nurseries reported throughout the country. In 1897 there were upon our list 204. In 1906 the number had increased to 295. The increase has been greatest in the large cities. New York has 60, Chicago 18, Boston 15 and Philadelphia 16, Cleveland 6, St. Louis 5, and until it was devastated by the recent awful calamity, San Francisco had 5.

"There is an increasing demand for nurseries all through the south, almost every small city in New England has one, and in the middle and far west a day nursery is organized just as soon as industrial conditions show the need of one."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher Here.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES HENRY FISHER, who formerly lived in Atlanta, are among the visitors in the city this week for the meeting of the oil mill men. Mr. Fisher was connected with the Gate City Oil Company for several years. Since his departure he has been prominently engaged in business in both North and South Carolina, being president of the Edgefield Manufacturing Company in South Carolina.

Mrs. Fisher, always a leader in social affairs, is also very active in club work, but is especially devoted to the work of the Daughters of the Confederacy. While president of the Guilford chapter in Greensboro, N. C., the ladies donated a very handsome battle flag of the Confederacy to the camp of veterans in that city, and Mrs. Fisher made the presentation address. It was very beautiful, finely delivered, and received by the old vets and hundreds of others who were present to witness the occasion with greatest enthusiasm.

She also, on behalf of the daughters of U. D. C., delivered the address of welcome to the D. A. R.'s, who assembled in that city in convention last fall.

The nominating committee, composed of Mr. Samuel Evans, Mrs. Walker Howard, Mr. Harry Alexander, Mrs. Robert Alston and Mr. Harison Bleckley, was the first to report, the ticket presented by them meeting with the unanimous indorsement of the members.

The first business brought before the meeting was that of the proposed art exhibition of next fall, Atlanta being given the opportunity of having the Tounshend exhibit, which will be shown in Nashville, New Orleans, Charleston and Savannah. It was explained that this exhibit is being organized by James B. Tounshend, the well-known art critic and writer, at present editor of The American Art News, and it is being anticipated as one of the brilliant features of the art world of the coming season.

On motion of Mr. Harrison Bleckly it was decided that the art association secure the exhibition for Atlanta, and the secretary instructed to sign the contract with Mr. Tounshend, the nature and class of the exhibit having been investigated by a committee from the association previously appointed.

On motion of Mr. Evans, it was decided that the art association reserve the privilege of supplementing the Tounshend exhibit with any pictures or works of art that might be secured, and further the success of the exhibition.

Mr. Harry Alexander made a report as chairman of the committee representing the association in their interest in the recent Ben Greet performances. The report was most satisfactory, and a motion unanimously carried to the effect that the appreciation of the association be expressed to Mr. Greet for the different performances which were in the nature of artistic achievement of the highest character, and occasions of universal pleasure to Atlanta's art-loving people.

A motion unanimously carried was that of Mrs. James Gilbert to the effect that the thanks and appreciation of the association be expressed to Mr. and Mrs. James H. Nunnally for the courtesies extended to the Ben Greet company.

The secretary was authorized to write to Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Horner, acknowledging the courtesies extended by them to the company the afternoon of the first performance.

THEATERS.

At the Bijou.

This week's vaudeville bill at the Bijou seems to be the rea lthing, judging from the splendid reception given the acts at last night's performance. Whether it is that local theatergoers have not had a chance to patronize a vaudeville show, or whether the acts are better than usual, certain it is that the bill is keenly enjoyed by the patrons of the Bijou, and every act received several encores.

Louise Dresser had one of the most pleasing voices that has been heard in Atlanta in many moons. Miss Dresser is a favorite, and will make lots of friends during the week.

The Three Keatons is one of the cleverest novelty acts of the bill. The way the elder Keaton throws muster around the stage must give heart disease to sympathetic mothers.

Jack Norworth is immense as a monologuist and general entertainer. He has a way all his own that many imitate, but very few ever touch him. For twenty minutes he keeps the audience howling and laughing.

Ethel McDonough handles the drums and the xylophone in fine style. Her act is always good for several encores.

The Parros Brothers give an acrobatic turn that measures up with the best ever seen in the city.

The vitagraph, with new and very pleasing pictures, closes a vaudeville show that will doubtless draw splendid audiences all the week to the Bijou.

Moving Pictures at the Grand.

An inspection of the moving pictures of the San Francisco tragedy, which will be presented at the Grand Thursday night, will reveal some very peculiar and interesting details. One view shows the men and women trying to save property and carrying many curious objects in their hands and arms. One man is seen dragging a bed mattress on which is strapped some small bric-a-brac and household furniture. He is rushing along a street strewn with debris, and the sight provokes laughter, although this is tinged with sorrow, where it is understood that the man is but one of thousands, who is trying to save a minute portion of once valuable household possessions.

Another interesting set of views are those showing the way the millionaires and common people are at work side by side clearing away the ruins and the streets. The man with the hoe and the man with the spectacles labor equally as hard, according to these moving pictures, but the one looks nearly exhausted, while the trained muscles and sinews of the laboring man show to advantage, even in a picture. These films and views are all taken by Miles Brothers, who had a moving picture studio on Market street, in San Francisco, thus enabling their operators to be first on the grounds for these views, splendid in detail and clearness.

Shreveport, La., May 15.—(Special.)—Owing to the threatening weather only a small crowd assembled at West End park this afternoon to witness the third game of the Atlanta-Shreveport series. Their hopes of seeing a game were shattered, however, during the first inning, when a heavy downpour put in its appearance and deluged the battling grounds. After waiting the required thirty minutes for the dripping to cease, Umpire Kennedy announced the game called on account of rain.

Atlanta completed her half of the opening inning, scoring one run, and it was while the Pirates were having their session that the rain appeared.

Hickman and Sparks were the opposing twirlers, and as they pitched only a few balls, it is more than likely that they will be the pair to be sent back to the rubber in tomorrow's contest.

THE G. M. A. CLAIMS HONORS.

The College Park Team Won't Play the Southern Division Winners, Charging Professionalism.

Georgia Military academy now claims the amateur prep championship of the state of Georgia despite the fact that the team had not met the southern division winner.

The College Park boys state that there is no doubt but that several players on both leading clubs in that division R. E. Lee and Gordon institute have professionalized themselves and are not eligible to play.

No definite charges have been preferred up to the present time, but the Georgia Military academy management declares that in all probability there will be no game this year between the champions of the northern and the southern division.

While each wrestler alternately made claims of foul tactics by his opponent the crowd in the hall divided into two wildly cheering factions, the English portion cheering Gotch and the Frenchmen present siding with Pietro. The police cleared the hall when the spectators came to blows.

The Last Shipment of Our Famous

25c Linen Lawn

Goes On Sale This Morning

Just in yesterday---180 pieces of the Linen Lawn that we have been selling at 25 cents and that has caused such a sensation in the local white goods market. This is the final shipment on our 1,000-piece purchase and positively the last of this Lawn that we can secure to sell at this price.

The present wholesale price at the mills in Belfast, Ireland, from which we import direct, is more than we are asking, and if we had not been protected by our big contract, we would be obliged to ask at least 35 cents and probably 40 cents for it.

It's a very sheer, fine smooth-woven fabric, full 36 inches wide and very much in demand just at present for commencement gowns, lingerie waists and dresses, fine underwear, etc.

You won't find its equal elsewhere in Atlanta, now or later, at less than 40 cents a yard---and when our present supply is exhausted we cannot duplicate it at anything near the price we offer it now.

Come today and buy some of this Lawn---as many or as few yards as you wish. It is, without question, the greatest white goods bargain of the season.

LABORER KILLED IN A RIOT.

Italians Attack Posse Near Spruce Pine, North Carolina.

Bristol, Va., May 15.—As the result of a riot which was incited today by seventy-five Italian laborers employed on the South and West railroad near Spruce Pine, N. C., one was killed and two seriously injured. For some unknown reason the men quit work and demanded immediate pay. The superintendent was unable to comply with this demand, and threats were made to blow up the office and commissary buildings. A posse was organized to quell the mob, and when it approached the house where the ringleaders were assembled they were met with a volley from within. The fire was returned with the above result.

The owners and managers of the Grand and the Bijou—Laurent DeGive, Henry DeGive and Julius DeGive—their attorney, Reuben Arnold, W. A. Wimbish, who will build a new theater on Peachtree street, and Mr. Thompson, of the Star, appeared before the special committee of council on theaters yesterday afternoon.

The DeGives presented their side of the case, protesting against the proposed theater ordinance introduced by Councilman William Oldknow, while Mr. Wimbish stated that he was waiting to hear from his architect in New York, and expected his reply today, by which time he would be in a position to make a statement.

Reuben Arnold represented the owners of the Grand and the Bijou. He argued that they had done everything possible to insure the safety of their patrons, and had always been willing to make needed changes and to surround theater-goers with every safeguard possible.

It was also argued that the cost of putting in fire extinguishers would be very great, and that any accident to them might flood the stores beneath the Bijou and make the management liable to heavy damages. The proposition to have one man to attend each light was also discussed, the DeGives declaring it both unnecessary and expensive.

COTTON MARKET NARROW AND QUIET

Opening Prices Showed Slight Advance Over Previous Close.

Weekly Report Proved Less Bullish Than Expected, Causing Market to Ease Off After Its Publication—The Closing Tone Was Steady.

New York, May 15.—The cotton market showed rather a nervous tone today, with trading less active and fluctuations narrow and irregular. The close was steady at a net decline of 2@3 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 175,000 bales. The opening was steady at an advance of 1@6 points, and prices worked up to a net gain of 4@6 points immediately after the call on covering of shorts and a little bull support which was encouraged by the firmness of the Liverpool market and continued predictions of a bullish weekly bureau report at midday. The daily weather reports for the day were considered favorable, however, temperatures being about seasonable with on precipitation of consequence and with the scattering shorts pretty well covered on the opening bulge. Prices eased off toward midday under realizing and a little selling from local bears. The weekly report proved a little less bullish than some had expected if anything, although reporting damage from frost notably in North Carolina, and the market was easier after its publication. The close was within a point or two of the lowest, though steadied slightly by bull support. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-16 per cent lower. Receipts continued liberal, but interior shipments reflect a loss of stock at an interior town and exports have recently overrun the port movement.

Receipts at the ports today 14,059 bales, against 14,514 last week and 24,719 last year. For the week estimated 85,000 bales, against 71,605 last week and 139,347 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 3,215 bales, against 6,176 last year, and at Houston 2,428 bales, against 6,211 last year.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, May 15.—Spot cotton steady; supply scant; sales, 2,214 including 900 f.o.b. Delivered on contracts; 400 bales. Quotations unchanegd; middling 11 7-16. Futures, influenced by favorable Liverpool, opened 1 to 2 points higher, but the government report had a bearish effect and sent prices down a few points. Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, May 15.—COTTON—European markets were affected by cablegrams from this side reporting damage from the frost of last week, which brought buying from the continent to Liverpool. From the opening here, it was apparent to close observers that July and May were for sale in a quiet manner, while new crop deliveries were bought openly. When the crop reports were received from Washington they proved to be better than expected, bringing selling orders from the south. The local traders bought heavily on this selling, to check the downward movement. At best, the market is a small one, depending on the weather. So far the south is a seller of new crops, which is accepted as indicating that the reports of damage were greatly exaggerated.

L. J. Anderson & Co.

New York, May 15.—COTTON—The general cotton situation continued bullish today, but the market proceeded along the same course of narrowness which has characterized operations for some time past. The cables were steady and the weather conditions remained unsettled while the weekly government report reflected moderate damage in some sections of the belt. However, on the better price levels, there appeared to be considerable stuff for sale, but there was no sign of actual pressure, and it was evident that the leaders in the market are still disinclined to do much, pending definite developments with regard to the outcome of the May option. The receipts continued small. The spot markets were steady and the demand from consumers continued quite extensive according to private telegrams from southern portions of accumulation. Many of the commission houses are now bullish on the situation, and moderate purchases are being advised on all recessions. The close observers in the pit aver that some of the erstwhile bull interests are selling on the firm spots, and this probably accounts for the slow movement of the general market.

Gibert & Clay.

New Orleans, May 15.—COTTON—The excellent trade conditions existing abroad have created, with renewed vigor, a more widespread and better feeling in so far as the present market is concerned. Cables were expressive that the market's future course would in the main be governed by action of consumers and the all-absorbing influences of the weather. Options closed 3 points higher than yesterday, and spots 6 points advance; sales 14,000 bales. The steadiness that the market exhibited in the early trading was largely reflective of the good business abroad, but later a downward tendency became apparent, and was futher aided by the weekly weather report, which, taken as a whole, was generally considered more favorable than expected. While no developments of any consequence have occurred of late to either cause, a reversal of public opinion or further strengthen that which already prevails, it is nevertheless apparent that sentiment is undergoing a slight change. Certainly there is no longer that general desire on the part of professional element to so strongly favor the short side; the continued demand and decreasing supplies retarding desires to make short commitments in summer months, and the belief that a short interest of moment already exists in the winter months, lessens the attractiveness of selling them, at least until crop prospects are further and more favorably advanced.

New York, May 15.—COTTON—Nothing has occurred to change the conclusions from the analysis of the cotton market of last week. Near-by cotton is in good demand, and in increasing supply and at many points in the interior the buying basis improved. The new crop is progressing and as a whole its environment could hardly be better; it has started well and is clean, with ideal weather for a tap-root. In some parts of Alabama, southern Arkansas and Louisiana conditions are not so favorable, and these reports are made the basis for sensational announcements by local bulls, especially by cable to England and the continent. Traders hold to their conservative attitude, and with an open mind to act up reliable informations and developments, either for higher or lower prices.

New York, May 15.—STOCKS—London sent higher cables for Americans this morning, and local market, in sympathy opened steady, but dull, with advances ranging from 1-8 to 7-8 per cent. A good tone was preserved during the early morning session and advances of a substantial character were scored in many directions. Between 11 and 12 o'clock a selling movement set in, which carried away all the early gain in most of the active list, and in some cases stocks sold below yesterday's low. The closing of the market showed considerable strength, notwithstanding the fact that some of the leading stocks, such as Great Northern, Northern Pacific, St. Paul and a few others showed a net loss for the day, but the principal recoveries, of course, were scored in specialties. Union Pacific, M. O. P., Brooklyn Rapid Transit and a few of the other specialties closed over yesterday's final.

Ware & Leland.

New York, May 15.—COTTON—Responding to higher cables, the local market opened steady at an advance of 1 to 6 points, and soon showed a net gain of 4 to 6 points on the general list, with May selling at 11.45 and July at 11.25 on covering of shorts and moderate bull support. It was expected that the weekly bureau report at midday would make a bullish showing, but this had been acted upon to a considerable extent on Monday, and toward midday prices sagged off slightly, with trading less active. The bureau mentioned temperatures considerably under the normal and reported frosts during the week in the sections already known to have suffered. North Carolina appears to have received the most injury according to the weekly report, which, however, proved to have been discounted, and the market following its publication was easier and rather feverish with prices selling off to a net decline of 4 to 6 points. At the decline there was buying of a good character, and the market rallied to about last night's prices. English spot sales were 14,000 bales at an advance of 6 points, and southern spot advices were of a bullish average. The day's map indicated favorable weather in the belt and receipts continued full.

New York, May 15.—STOCKS—The stock market was subjected to some further speculative realizing today, and also considerable short selling, which had the effect of forcing down prices, bringing a reaction in extension of that started yesterday, which was desirable, and it affords a good opportunity, we believe, to buy standard railroad specialties. We note a division of a sentiment that points to the wisdom of the trading position on the market as a whole, but with preference for the long side for turns at least when stocks are weak, so far as the daily operator is concerned. Conditions generally seem to be shaping themselves accordingly. Specialty leadership upward should be in order.

WHEAT MARKET SHOWS WEAKNESS

Prices Were Affected by Favorable Weather Conditions.

During Entire Session Pit Traders Were Persistent Sellers and Most of the Offerings Were Taken by Bull Leaders—Market Closed Weak.

Chicago, May 15.—Rains throughout Kansas and other portions of the southwest had a weakening effect today on the local wheat market. At the close wheat for July delivery showed a net loss of 1-2c. Corn and oats about unchanged. Provisions were up 2 1-2 to 15 cents. Wheat was weak all day and the volume of trading was rather small. The market was affected for the greater part by weather conditions in the winter wheat sections. Rains were reported over the southwest, and more showers were forecasted for tonight. Prices at Liverpool were a trifle lower, and this had a depressing effect here. During the entire session pit traders were persistent sellers, and offerings were taken principally by bull leaders. Toward the end of the day shorts were fairly active buyers. The market closed weak. July opened 1-8@1-4 to 3-8@1-2c lower at 80 5-8 to 80 7-8, sold up to 81, and then declined to 80 1-4. Final quotations were at 80 1-2@80 5-8. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 79,400 bushels. The world's visible supply as shown by Bradstreet's decreased 3,800,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 214,000 bushels, compared with 153,000 bushels one year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 204 cars, against 181 last week and 185 one year ago.

Trading in corn was very quiet, and the market was steady because of a fair demand for cash houses. Continued small local receipts formed the underlying reason for the cash inquiry. The market closed steady with prices practically unchanged from yesterday's final quotations. July opened a shade to 1-8 lower, sold up to 46 1-2@46 5-8, and closed at 46 3-4. Local receipts were 117 cars, with 21 of contract grade.

Despite more liberal receipts than had been expected the oats market was steady. Shorts were moderate bidders for the May delivery and with small offerings the price of that option was nearly a half cent up. Small contracts of contract oats, in store in Chicago, furnished the main incentive to buyers. July opened a shade higher at 32 1-8, sold at 32 1-2@32 1-4, and closed at 32. Receipts 178 cars.

Provisions were easier early in the day, because of selling by pit traders, who were influenced by a weak market for live hogs. Later a firm tone developed on a fair demand by local packers. At the close July pork was up 15cwat 15.60. Lard was up 2 1-2c at 8.62 1-2. Ribs were 5@7 1-2c higher at 8.85@8.87 1-2. Estimated receipts for tomorrow—Wheat 12 cars; corn 51 cars; oats 90 cars; hogs 29,000 head.

STOCK MARKET OPENED STRONG

Later Prices Show Weakness and Fall Below Previous Close.

Several Stocks Were Thrown on the Market for Which There Was No Sustaining Demand, and Prices Yielded Sharply, but Soon Recovered.

New York, May 15.—Today's stock market gave signs of falling into the dull and uncertain state which is the rule after the first recovery from such a sharp break as that which followed the San Francisco property losses. A variety of explanations was found for the heavy tone developed in the market today. The fact is that much has been accomplished towards covering up the contracts on the short side of the market which were put out during the period of acute depression of sentiment. The element of restricted capital resources to meet the heavy reuirements pressing to secure the supply was brought into prominence today by the announcement of the Pennsylvania note issue for $50,000,000. The fact in itself that resort to this form of financing was considered by the most powerful railroad or corporation in the country was of adverse effect on sentiment.

The terms of the issue also were unfavorably regarded. While the interest on the notes was called 4 1-2 per cent, the understanding of the price at which they were sold pointed to a yield up to 5 per cent, while the supposition of a commission in addition to the bankers bringing out the issue opened the way to assumption that the company was paying a still higher rate for the use of the money. The money market gave no reflection of scarcity of funds and rates for time loans continued to be shaded under the influence of offerings from out of town sources. The market showed some relief on the announcement of the prompt placing of the Pennsylvania note issue and the intention to keep the proceeds on deposit with the banks. The falling off in the activity of the market was ascribed in part to a disinclination to enter upon stock market commitments until after the adjournment of congress. Something was made also of the Standard Oil dividend declaration which was at the same rate as for the corresponding period of last year, but less than for the preceding quarter of this year. Bearish traders attempted to couple this with yesterday's reduction in the dividend of a small subsidiary company of the Amalgamated Copper Company to form an inference of a sentiment against a rise in the market on the part of the powerful group interested in these companies. The market had the advantages of a considerable rise before the decline set in, and of a late rally again so that the net changes are small as a rule. The closing tone was firm.

Miller & Co.

New York, May 15.—COTTON: If futures in Liverpool are quiet, there is no lack of activity in the spot department. Their sales today are 14,000 bales on top of 14,000 yesterday. Our cables continue to sell of excellent business doing in Manchester and mills sold well ahead. There was a decidedly confident feeling throughout the morning, partly as a result of the good spot business, but largely also because of mail advices confirming the frost damage of last week. Prices advanced about 8 points but met a stubborn resistance from the bear element. There was also considerable considerable profit taking by long scalpers who preferred to get out before the weekly report was read. Government utterances of any kind are always considered to discount an advance, hence the disposition to take profits this morning. The report itself, when read was a complete confirmation of private accounts received regarding the recent cold wave; in North Carolina the damage from frost occurred everywhere throughout the state and was heavy in a number of countries, and all the states were more or less visited by frost and several days of unusually cold weather. Attacks were made to minimize the importance of the report but there is no doubt in our minds that Europe will take it seriously, and the present tendency of spinners to lay in liberal supplies will be increased. The world recognizes that a large crop of cotton is needed and, the setback which the young growth has undoubtedly suffered will be a serious handicap to the production of a yield sufficient to meet the world's requirements. We look for better markets during the balance of the week. Liverpool is due to come 2 or 3 lower in the morning.

STOCKS—The whole market opened strong and higher but towards noon a selling movement set in which carried the market from 1 to 3 points below last night's close, and in fact, in the case of Anaconda, the decline numbered quite some few points. That the greater amount of this selling, however, was short selling, is somewhat attested by the ease and rapidity with which the market rallied in the last hour. The western crowd, who were among the heaviest sellers during the noon hour were very active in bidding up their stocks towards the close. Copper was especially well taken on the cable from London that the demand was enormous at the record price, equal to 21 cents per pound here. We have had the long looked for reaction and we should have still further improvements in prices, as the news justifies it. The government statement of foreign trade shows for April an increase of $13,000,000 over April of last year in exports of breadstuffs, cotton and other domestic products, and for the ten months of the fiscal year, $146,000,000 in excess. The winter wheat crop outlook is satisfactory and money is undoubtedly tending to further ease. The situation abroad is such that sentiment there in banking circles is favoring a further reduction in the Bank of England's rate of discount. We still believe stocks should be bought on every reaction.

E. Steenburg & Co.

New York, May 15.—COTTON.—The large demand for spots in Liverpool, private advices reporting further damage to the new crop from the cool weather and frost last week, were responsible for the strong undertone of this market. The gradually decreasing visible supply also added to the strength of the situat on. The Liverpool market opened about as expected, private cables indicating good buying for the continent with small offerings by Egypt.

steady at an advance of 1 to 6 points, with more outside business than usual; a good part of wh'ch was due to the nervous anticipation of the government weather report, which had little effect on prices when it was issued at noon. The professional longs took advantage of the orportunity to realize on the advance, but their offerings were readily absorbed by the bull cliaue. There is no apparent weakness in the market and the large short interest in the new crop and the steady demand for the old crop from spinners, will serve to maintain the present strong tone. We do not, however, see anything in the present situation to warrant any sensational advance. Liverpool is due to come 3 to 5 down tomorrow.
